PART 3293—CHEMICALS

[Limitation Order L-354, as Amended
Oct. 8, 1946]

LEAD CHEMICALS

The fulfillment of requirements for the defense of the United States has created a shortage in the supply of lead and lead chemicals, both imported and domestic, for defense, for private account and for export; and the following order is deemed necessary and appropriate to the public interest and to promote the national defense:

§ 3293.657 Limitation Order L-354—
(a) Definitions. For the purposes of this order:

(1) "Lead" means metallic lead or the lead content of the lead chemicals defined below in paragraphs (a) (2) through (a) (21) of this order.

(2) "Metallic lead" means the metal having the symbol pb.

(3) "Lead acetate" means the lead chemical or compound having the approximate chemical formula $Pb(C_2H_3O_2)_2$ $2Pb(OH)_2$ (Basic acetate) or $Pb(C_2H_3O_2)_2 \cdot 3H_2O$ (Normal acetate).

(4) "Lead antimonate" means that lead chemical or compound having the approximate chemical formula $Pb_3(SbO_4)_2$.

(5) "Lead dioxide" means that lead chemical or compound having the approximate chemical formula PbO_2 .

(6) "Lead chloride" means that lead chemical or compound having the approximate chemical formula $PbCl_2$.

(7) "Lead nitrate" means that lead chemical or compound having the approximate chemical formula $Pb(NO_3)_2$, except lead nitrate produced for use in chrome pigment.

(8) "Lead silicate (Mono)" means that lead chemical or compound having the approximate chemical formula $PbO \cdot SiO_2$.

(9) "Lead silicate (di)" means that lead chemical or compound having the approximate chemical formula $PbO \cdot 2SiO_2$.

(10) "Litharge" means that lead chemical or compound having the approximate chemical formula PbO except "litharge" produced for use in batteries, lead arsenate, lead arsenite, and chrome pigments.

(11) "Red lead" means that lead chemical or compound having the approximate chemical formula Pb_3O_4 , except "Red lead" produced for use in batteries, lead arsenate and lead arsenite.

(12) "White lead" means either basic carbonate of white lead or basic sulphate of white lead as defined in this order.

(13) "Basic carbonate of white lead" means that lead chemical or compound having the approximate chemical formula $2PbCO_3 \cdot Pb(OH)_2$, except basic carbonate of white lead produced for use in chrome pigments.

(14) "Basic sulphate of white lead" means that lead chemical or compound having the approximate chemical formula $2PbSO_4 \cdot PbO$.

(15) "Lead chrome pigments" means chrome yellow, chrome orange, chrome green and molybdate chrome orange as defined below.

(16) "Chrome yellow" and "chrome orange" mean the pigments which are reaction precipitates consisting of normal or basic lead chromates or mixtures of these with or without other insoluble compounds of lead. Color Index 1270.¹

(17) "Chrome green" means the pigment consisting of a precipitated mixture of chrome yellow. Color index 1270¹—and iron blue. Color Index 1288.¹

(18) "Molybdate chrome orange" means a mixed crystal containing lead chromate, lead molybdate, and lead sulphate with or without other insoluble compounds of lead.

(19) "Sodium plumbite" means that lead chemical or compound having the approximate chemical formula Na_2PbO_2 .

(20) "Lead arsenate" means the lead chemical or compound produced for use as an agricultural insecticide and includes all arsenical lead salts.

(21) "Lead arsenite" means that lead chemical or compound having the approximate chemical formula $Pb(AsO_2)_2$.

(b) Restrictions on production of lead chemicals. (1) No person shall put into process in any calendar quarter for the production of the lead chemicals specified in paragraphs (a) (3) through (14) and (a) (19) an aggregate quantity of lead in excess of 35% of the aggregate quantity of lead he put into process for the production of these lead chemicals during the first six months of 1944, or 5,000 pounds, whichever is the greater.

(2) No person shall put into process in any calendar quarter for the production of lead chrome pigments an aggregate quantity of lead in excess of 70% of the aggregate quantity of lead he put into process for the production of lead chrome pigments during the first three months of 1946 or 1,000 pounds, whichever is greater.

(c) Restrictions on production of insecticides. No person shall put into process in any calendar quarter for production of insecticides an aggregate quantity of lead in excess of 41% aggregate quantity of lead in excess of 45% aggregate quantity of lead he put into process for the production of insecticides during the first six months of 1944 or 1,000 pounds, whichever is greater. However, during the period October 18, through December 31, 1946 no person shall put into process any lead for the production of insecticides unless he is specifically authorized in writing by the Civilian Production Administration. Any person who desires to process lead for insecticides during this period must apply by letter in duplicate addressed to the Civilian Production Administration, Chemicals Division, Washington 25, D. C. Ref.: L-354, and should state the amount of lead required by the applicant for the production of insecticides during such period and the amount so used between October 1, 1946 and October 10, 1946. Authorizations will be granted on basis of the months of production within quarter, the availability of arsenic and recommendations of Department of Agriculture but will not exceed 41% of the base period use.

(d) Method of computing lead content of lead chemicals. This order limits the amount of lead which a person may put into process in any calendar quarter for the production of certain products to a percentage of the lead which he put into process during the base period. In order to determine this percentage of lead in lead chemicals, during the base period, the following table should be used:

Pounds of lead per 100 pounds of lead chemicals
Lead chemicals:
Lead acetate (basic).....	60
Lead acetate (normal).....	55
Lead antimonate.....	63
Lead arsenate.....	60
Lead arsenite.....	50

(e) Inventories. Lead chemicals appear in Table 1 of Priorities Regulation 32. Inventories of these chemicals are subject to all provisions of that regulation.

(f) Applications for quotas for lead chemicals. Any person who does not have a quota for putting lead into process for the production of lead chemicals and who wishes to use more than the small quantities permitted under paragraphs (b) and (c) above, may apply for a quota by filing a letter with the Civilian Production Administration, Chemicals Division, Washington 25, D. C. Ref.: L-354. The letter should state in addition to any other pertinent information what lead chemicals the applicant wishes to make, what facilities he has for this purpose and the amount of lead he will need for this purpose per quarter. A quota will be assigned to him on an equitable basis.

(g) Miscellaneous provisions.—(1) Applicability of regulations. This order and all transactions affected hereby are subject to all applicable regulations of the Civilian Production Administration, as amended from time to time.

FOUNTAIN PENS AND MECHANICAL PENCILS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Supplementary Order No. 126 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 2 (1) is amended by adding the following miscellaneous items: "Parts for fountain pens and mechanical pencils."

This amendment shall become effective on the 8th day of October 1946.

Issued this 8th day of October 1946.

GEOFFREY BAKER,
Acting Administrator.

STATEMENT OF THE CONSIDERATIONS
INVOLVED IN THE ISSUANCE OF AMENDMENT 54 TO SO 126

Fountain pens and mechanical pencils and fountain pen and mechanical pencil sets were removed from price control by Amendment 88 to Maximum Price Regulation No. 188. Since parts for items removed from price control by amendment of Maximum Price Regulation No. 188 are not automatically removed from control, it is necessary to specifically amend Supplementary Order 126 to include such parts.

The justification for the decontrol of these articles is the same as that on which the decontrol of fountain pens and mechanical pencils is based. The part of the statement to Amendment 88 to Maximum Price Regulation 188 which is applicable to the decontrol of fountain pens and mechanical pencils is therefore incorporated herein by reference.

REVISED MAXIMUM PRICES FOR CERTAIN
COTTON TEXTILES

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Section 3b (x) is amended to read as follows:

(x) The maximum prices for pound goods and remnants less than 10 yards in length for which prices have been established by section 2 (a) of the General Maximum Price Regulation are those prices increased by 25%.

This amendment shall become effective October 14, 1946.

Issued this 8th day of October 1946.

GEOFFREY BAKER,
Acting Administrator.

STATEMENT OF THE CONSIDERATIONS
INVOLVED IN THE ISSUANCE OF AMEND-MENT NO. 35 TO SUPPLEMENTARY
ORDER NO. 131

Pound goods less than one yard in length which were priced under the General Maximum Price Regulation were given an increase of 25% by Amendment 32 to Supplementary Order No. 131 on August 30, 1946.

This amendment expands the coverage of the August 30th 25% increase provision to include remnants up to 10 yards in length but limits its application to only those goods whose price was established by section 2 (a) of the General Maximum Price Regulation (goods delivered or offered for delivery in March 1942).

Simultaneously with this action Maximum Price Regulation 118 and Revised Price Schedule No. 35 are being amended granting a 25% increase to the present prices for all pound goods less than 10 yards in length. This is part of an action taken to provide uniform discounts for seconds and shorts and to restore the historical price relationship between pound goods and remnants and the first quality goods.

PART 1305—ADMINISTRATION
[Rev. SO 154, Amdt. 4]

ADJUSTED MAXIMUM PRICES FOR CERTAIN
KNITTED COMMODITIES

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Revised Supplementary Order 154 is amended in the following respects:

1. In section 2 (a), the language of that part of the section preceding Example 1 is amended to read as follows:

SEC. 2. Scope of this order—(a) What commodities are covered. This order applies to a commodity only if the following two conditions are met:

(1) The commodity is listed in Appendix A, and

(2) The commodity is "the same" as one of the seller's "base period commodities".

Section 6 (a) of this order explains when two commodities are "the same". A "base period commodity" is one for which the ceiling price is established under either § 1499.2 (a) (1) of the General Maximum Price Regulation or § 1389.302 of Maximum Price Regulation 221.

2. Step 6 of section 3 is amended to read as follows:

Step 6. Add the amounts found in Step 3, Step 4 and Step 5 to the maximum price found in Step 1. This total is the adjusted maximum price of the commodity.

3. Section 4 (b) (10) is amended to read as follows:

(10) Adjusted maximum price under this order of each style listed in (3) (the maximum price shown in (6) plus amounts shown in (7), (8) and (9)).

4. Column (8) of the form of report set forth in section 4 (c) is amended to read as follows: "Adjusted maximum price (4) + (5) + (6) + (7)."

5. A new paragraph, designated paragraph (3), is added at the end of section 5 (a) to read as follows: "(3) Maximum Price Regulation 273."

6. A new paragraph, designated paragraph (5), is added at the end of section 6 (a) to read as follows:

(5) Subject to the provisions of subparagraphs (i) and (ii) below, in the case of underwear, outerwear or hosiery items covered by this order, the current commodity may contain carded yarn in substitution for combed yarn in the base period commodity, or may contain combed yarn in substitution for carded yarn of the base period commodity, Provided, however, That the yarn count of the substituted yarn in the current commodity may not vary from the count of the yarn in the base period commodity by more than the permissible yard count variations set forth in paragraph (3) above. Note that if the maximum price of the commodity has not already been properly adjusted under this revised order, a report must be filed for the commodity in accordance with section 4 (b) and that no adjustment in maximum price shall be effective unless approved under section 4 (d). Further note that you must use as your unadjusted maximum price on which an adjustment is taken the base period price of the commodity as established by § 1499.2 (a) (1) of the General Maximum Price Regulation or § 1389.302 of Maximum Price Regulation 221 whichever is appropriate.

(i) Reduction in price of commodity where carded yarn is substituted for combed yarn. Where the current commodity contains carded yarn as a substitute for combed yarn in the base period commodity, the adjusted maximum price of the base period commodity (as found in Step 6 of section 3) shall be reduced as follows:

Multiply the weight in pounds of each count of combed yarn in the base period commodity by the difference between the ceiling price of that yarn on October 8, 1946 and the ceiling price on that date of the carded yarn replacing it. The product of this multiplication is the cost reduction for each count of combed yarn replaced. The total of such cost reductions for all of the combed yarns replaced is the total cost reduction for the commodity. The price reduction for the commodity is the figure in Column II below set opposite the appropriate cost reduction in Column I. If the total cost reduction for the commodity is less than 10¢ per dozen, in the case of underwear or outerwear items, or less than 3¢ per dozen, in the case of hosiery, no reduction in price need be made.

(ii) Record of substitution of carded for combed yarn. No seller may sell at an adjusted price under this order an item with respect to which a substitution of carded for combed yarn has been made unless he prepares and retains for inspection by the Office of Price Administration a statement showing his computation of reduction in maximum price under subparagraph (i) above. This statement shall contain the style number of the garment with respect to which the substitution has been made, the weight in pounds of each count of combed yarn replaced, the difference between the ceiling price as of October 8, 1946 of the combed yarn replaced and the carded yarn replacing it, the cost reduction resulting from each replacement, the total cost reduction and the price reduction arising from such total cost reduction under subparagraph (i) hereof. Said statement shall also contain a record of the quantity of each such style number sold and the beginning and ending date of the period during which such sales were made.

7. Appendix A is amended to read as follows:

APPENDIX A—COMMODITY GROUPS

Men's, women's, children's and infants' knitted underwear made exclusively of cotton or wool or of a combination of cotton and wool or of a combination of cotton or wool (or both) with rayon, Provided, however, That the rayon content of the garment may not exceed 20 percent of the finished weight of the garment.

This amendment shall become effective October 8, 1946.

NOTE: All record keeping and reporting requirements of this amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 8th day of October 1946.

PAUL A. PORTER,
Administrator.

STATEMENT OF THE CONSIDERATIONS INVOLVED IN THE ISSUANCE OF AMENDMENT 4 TO REVISED SUPPLEMENTARY ORDER 154

The accompanying amendment permits manufacturers of the underwear, outerwear or hosiery items covered by Revised Supplementary Order 154 to adjust their maximum prices for these commodities where they have substituted carded yarn in the current commodity for the combed yarn in the base period commodity or have substituted combed yarn for carded yarn. To be eligible for adjustment, however, the substitution of yarn must be made within the limits of the yarn count tolerances provided in the Revised Supplementary Order 154. Where combed yarn is substituted for the carded yarn in the base period commodity no increase or reduction is made in the adjusted maximum price of the commodity. However, where carded yarn is substituted for combed yarn, a reduction in the adjusted maximum price of the commodity must be made in accordance with the formula provided by the accompanying amendment. If the commodity has not previously been adjusted under the order, the manufacturer must first report and receive approval of his adjusted maximum price for the base period commodity before he may make the substitution in yarns permitted by this amendment. Where carded yarn is substituted for combed, the manufacturer must also keep and make available for inspection by the Office of Price Administration a statement showing certain specified information relating to the yarn changes and the cost and price reduction provided for by the amendment.

The foregoing changes are designed to afford manufacturers a measure of flexibility in substituting yarns where shortages in the yarn market prevent them from obtaining precisely the same yarn which they used in the base period. Without such flexibility, it appears, manufacturers would be unable to adjust their maximum prices for the necessary staple items covered by the order and would not produce them.

In addition to the foregoing change, the accompanying amendment extends the coverage of the order to include children's knitted outerwear long pants and overalls and also eliminates the cutoff prices heretofore provided for some of the knitted outerwear items. The latter change is made in the light of evidence which has been submitted to show that the squeeze caused by rising costs and a frozen price for these base period items is impeding the production of these items in the price ranges above the cutoff prices as well as those below. To remove this impediment to production the adjustment permitted by the order is extended to all ranges of these base period items.

ARTICLE I—GENERAL PROVISIONS AND SCOPE OF REGULATION

SECTION 1.1 Prices higher than ceiling prohibited. (a) Regardless of any contract or other obligation or of any price regulation or order heretofore issued by the Office of Price Administration, no person shall sell or deliver and no person in the course of trade or business shall buy or receive any of the commodities set forth in this regulation at a price higher than the maximum prices specified herein; and no person shall offer, solicit or attempt to do any of the foregoing.

(b) Prices lower than maximum prices may, of course, be charged and paid.

SEC. 1.2 To what commodities, transactions, and persons these ceilings apply—(a) What commodities and transactions are covered. This regulation covers sales of the commodities set forth in the sections below. The type of transaction covered, whether to wholesaler, at wholesale, or at retail, is specified in each section.

(b) What persons are covered. Any person who sells, or in the course of trade or business buys, any commodities listed in the sections set forth below is subject to this regulation. The term "person" includes an individual, corporation, partnership, association, cooperative or any other organized group of persons or legal successors or representatives of any of the foregoing, and includes the United States or any agency thereof or any other government or any of its political subdivisions, or any agency of the foregoing.

(c) Prices for comparable varieties. The prices established in this regulation are intended to apply to all varieties of the commodities named without regard to country of origin, unless the provisions with regard to such commodity limit the applicability of the prices to named brands, sizes, styles, packagings, points of origin or other determinants of variety. Where a commodity, of a variety different from that priced herein, bears a normal and customary trade relation to a variety of the commodity for which maximum prices have been fixed in this regulation, or is similar or comparable to such variety or differs from such variety only in the matter of size or packaging, the Director may, by order, prescribe a maximum price for such commodity, which price shall be in line with the markups and maximum prices fixed on the varieties of the commodity herein regulated. No such commodity shall be sold in Puerto Rico until a maximum price therefor has been approved by the Director as indicated above.

(d) Sales for export. Sales for delivery to points outside of Puerto Rico shall not exceed the maximum prices fixed herein plus the transportation charges necessary to the shipment of such commodities to the country of destination.

SEC. 1.3 Relation to other regulations. The sale of commodities not otherwise covered by this Third Revised Maximum Price Regulation 183 shall be governed by the General Maximum Price Regulation¹ or by such other maximum price regulations, price schedules and orders as are applicable in Puerto Rico.

SEC. 1.4 Federal and territorial taxes.

(a) Any tax upon, or incident to, the sale, delivery, processing or use of a commodity imposed by any statute of the United States or statute or ordinance of Puerto Rico or subdivision thereof subsequent to such commodity becoming subject to this Third Revised Maximum Price Regulation 183, shall be treated as follows in determining the seller's maximum price for such commodity and in preparing the records of such seller with respect thereto:

(1) If the statute or ordinance imposing such tax does not prohibit the seller from stating and collecting the tax separately from the purchase price, and the seller does separately state it, the seller may collect, in addition to the maximum price, the amount of the tax or increase actually paid by him or an amount equal to the amount of tax paid by any prior vendor and separately stated and collected from the seller by the vendor from whom he purchased. In such cases the seller shall not include such amount in determining the maximum price under this Third Revised Maximum Price Regulation 183.

(2) Also, on sales of commodities covered by this regulation to the Insular or Municipal Governments of Puerto Rico or to the agencies or instrumentalities of either, the seller may collect, in addition to the maximum prices established herein, the 3% excise tax levied on the amount of contracts of sales to the Insular or Municipal Governments by subsection 4 of Act 25 enacted by the Legislature of Puerto Rico and approved December 4, 1942; Provided, That the seller actually states and collects the amount of such tax separately from the maximum prices for the particular commodities involved in the contract.

SEC. 1.5 Evasion.

The maximum prices established by this regulation shall not be evaded, whether by direct or indirect methods, in connection with an offer, solicitation, agreement, sale, delivery, purchase or receipt of, or relating to the commodities covered herein, alone or in conjunction with any other commodities or by way of commission, services, transportation, or other charge or discount, premium, or other privilege, or by tying-agreement, combination sale, or other trade understanding or otherwise.

SEC. 1.6 Adjustable pricing.

Any person may agree to sell at a price which can be increased up to the maximum price in effect at the time of delivery; but no person may, unless authorized by an order of the Director, deliver or agree to deliver at prices to be adjusted upward in accordance with action taken by the Office of Price Administration after delivery.

SEC. 1.7 Gross prices.

The maximum prices established herein are gross prices to which no charges shall be added for transportation, delivery, commissions, containers, storage or any other services in connection with any commodity, unless otherwise hereinafter provided.

SEC. 1.8 Price for fractional parts of units.

The maximum price for a quantity of a commodity which constitutes a fractional or multiple part of the unit in terms of which a commodity is priced in this regulation, shall be proportionately computed unless hereinafter otherwise provided.

SEC. 1.9 Records and Reports—(a) Records to be kept.

(1) Every person making sales to wholesalers and at wholesale of the commodities which are subject to this regulation shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration, for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, shall remain in effect, complete and accurate records of each purchase and of each sale made by him. The record of purchases shall include: the date of the purchase, a clear description or identification of the commodity, the price paid for each commodity, the quantity purchased, and the name and address of the seller from whom such commodity was purchased. The record of sales shall include: the date of the sale, a clear description or identification of the commodity, the price charged for such commodity, the quantity sold, and the name and address of the customer.

(2) Every person making sales at retail of the commodities which are subject to this regulation shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration, for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, shall remain in effect, complete and accurate records of each purchase made by him. The record of purchases shall include: the date of the purchase, a clear description or identification of the commodity, the price paid for such commodity, the quantity which was purchased, and the name and address of the seller from whom such commodity was purchased.

(b) Notification to purchasers. (1) On or after the date any commodity becomes subject to this regulation, every person selling any such commodity, except at retail, shall with each delivery supply the purchaser with a statement of the maximum prices for the commodity or commodities delivered, as follows: "The Office of Price Administration has established specific maximum prices for (insert name of commodity, including grade, weight, quantity, size, style, and any other specification which affects the maximum price) at $----- on sales to wholesalers; at $----- on sales at wholesale, and at $----- on sales at retail." Notice once given under this paragraph (b) to a particular purchaser with respect to a particular commodity need not be repeated unless a change is thereafter made in its maximum price. If the statement furnished a purchaser under this paragraph, or under any other notification provision contained in this regulation, does not identify the grade, weight, quantity, size, style, or other specification of the commodity sold, the maximum price which may be charged for such commodity is the maximum price established by this regulation for the lowest priced grade, weight, quantity, size, style or other specification of that commodity.

(2) On and after the date any commodity becomes subject to this regulation, every person offering to sell any such commodity at retail shall mark the maximum price of such commodity in a manner plainly visible to and understandable by the purchasing public. The maximum prices may be marked on the commodities themselves or may be posted at the place in the establishment where the commodities are offered for sale, or may be posted by price lines if the selling price of each commodity is marked thereon. The maximum prices shall be indicated in the form of "Ceiling price $-----" or "Our ceiling $-----," and "Our selling price $-----."

(c) Sales slips and receipts. Any seller who has customarily given a purchaser a sales slip, receipt or similar evidence of purchase shall continue to do so. Upon request from a purchaser any seller, regardless of his previous custom, shall give the purchaser a receipt showing the date, the name and address of the seller, the name of each commodity sold (including the grade, weight, quantity, size, style, and other specification which affects the maximum price), and the price received for it. If the sales slip, receipt or invoice furnished a purchaser under this paragraph, or under any other invoice provision contained in this regulation, does not identify the grade, weight, style, quantity, size or other specification of the commodity sold, the maximum price which may be charged for such commodity is the maximum price established by this regulation for the lowest priced grade, weight, style, quantity, size or other specification of that commodity.

(d) Application to suspended commodities. The provisions of this section 1.9 shall be inoperative with respect to any commodity suspended from price control by section 1.16 of this regulation on sales or deliveries made during the period of such commodity's suspension from price control, unless otherwise provided.

SEC. 1.10 Registration.

Every person who owns, or hereafter becomes the owner of, any business selling any commodity for which a maximum price is established by this regulation, shall register with the Office of Price Administration at such time and in such manner as the Director may by order or amendment prescribe on forms made available by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 1.11 Enforcement and licensing.

(a) Any person who violates any provision of this regulation is subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages, and proceedings for suspension of licenses provided by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(b) The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1,² licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this regulation. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

SEC. 1.12 Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment of any provision of this regulation may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1; Provided, however, That any such petition shall be filed with the Director at San Juan, Puerto Rico.

SEC. 1.13 Applications for adjustment. Any person seeking an adjustment of the maximum prices established by this regulation may file an application for adjustment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 7.³

SEC. 1.14 Territorial adjustment of maximum prices. Whenever in the judgment of the Director the exigency of the case requires it, he may, by interim order, adjust or revise any maximum price established by this regulation. Any such order may be revised, amended or revoked by the Price Administrator or the Regional Administrator for the Ninth Region. Any such order shall, as soon as practicable, be superseded by an appropriate amendment to this regulation.

ARTICLE III—FERTILIZERS

SEC. 3.1 Mixed fertilizer, superphosphate, potash and nitrogenous materials. (a) Definitions. When used in this section the term:

(1) "Manufacturer" means a person who produces, mixes or processes, or who markets for his own account and under his own brand or trade name, mixed fertilizer, superphosphate potash or nitrogenous materials for use as an aid to the growth of crops or plants.

(2) "Mixed fertilizer" means any substance containing any two or more of potash, superphosphate and nitrogenous materials, when marketed or sold as an aid to the growth of crops or plants.

(3) "Superphosphate" means any product which is obtained by mixing rock phosphate with either sulphuric acid or phosphoric acid or with both acids, when marketed or sold as an aid to the growth of crops or plants.

(4) "Potash" means muriate, chloride or sulphate of potash, manure salts and any other substance containing potassium oxide (K₂O), when marketed or sold as an aid to the growth of crops or plants.

(5) "Nitrogenous materials" means any organic or inorganic substance containing nitrogen, when marketed or sold as an aid to the growth of crops or plants.

(6) "Grade" means the minimum guarantee of the plant food content of mixed fertilizer, superphosphate or potash, expressed in terms of ammonia, available phosphoric acid, and water-soluble potash, e. g., 4-12-4, 0-14-7, 0-20-0, 0-0-50.

(7) "Price schedule" means any price list or statement, irrespective of form, issued or used by the seller, setting forth the prices, grades, kinds, terms of payments, types of containers or bags, method and conditions of delivery and any other provisions relating to sales of the commodities being priced.

(8) "Consumer" means a person purchasing mixed fertilizer, superphosphate, potash or nitrogenous materials for use in aiding the growth of crops or plants (and not for resale) including the Agricultural Adjustment Agency.

(9) "Dealer" means a person who purchases mixed fertilizer, superphosphate potash or nitrogenous materials and resells it to a consumer.

(b) Manufacturers' maximum prices for sales of mixed fertilizer, superphosphate and potash—(1) Delivered prices. A manufacturer's maximum prices for sales of mixed fertilizer, superphosphate and potash delivered to any purchaser's premises or to the railroad shipping station located nearest to the purchaser shall be the price set forth in his written or printed price schedule effective on October 15, 1941, denoted herein as the base period prices, subject to adjustment upward or downward each quarter year by an amount determined as follows:

(i) On or before January 1, 1944, the manufacturer shall determine the average delivered-to-factory cost per unit for each of these four items used or received by him, as the case may be, during the period July 1 to December 31, 1941:

1. Ammonia.
2. Available phosphoric acid.
3. Potash.
4. Bags or containers.

(a) Using these averages as cost figures the manufacturer shall determine, by use of his own formula, the total cost of the amounts of the first three items entering into a ton of his finished fertilizer. To this he shall add the cost (as determined above) of the number of bags or containers he has customarily used to contain one ton of his fertilizer. This final figure is hereafter referred to as "base cost." It is a figure that will be used each three months and, once verified, need not be recomputed.

(b) On January 1, 1944, and quarterly thereafter the manufacturer shall likewise determine the average delivered-to-factory cost per unit of each of the four items used or received by him, as the case may be, during the period of three months immediately preceding the date of computation.

(c) Using these averages as cost figures the manufacturer shall determine, by use of his own formula, the total cost of the amounts of the first three items entering into a ton of his finished fertilizer. To this he shall add the cost (as determined above) of the number of bags or containers he has customarily used to contain one ton of his fertilizer. This final figure is hereafter referred to as "current cost."

(d) If during any three-month period one or more of the four items of raw material were not received by the manufacturer, he shall use as the price for such material in his quarterly computations the average price computed for the next preceding three-month period.

(e) If on any quarter-annual date the current cost shall be less than the base cost, then for the succeeding three-month period the manufacturer's maximum price per ton shall be the price scheduled by him on October 15, 1941, less the difference between current cost and base cost.

(f) If on any quarter-annual date the current cost be greater than the base cost, then for the succeeding three-month period the manufacturer's maximum price per ton shall be the price scheduled by him on October 15, 1941, plus the difference between current cost and base cost.

(g) The manufacturer's maximum prices on quantities less than a ton shall preserve the same relative differentials as were present in his price schedule of October 15, 1941.

(2) F. o. b. prices. A manufacturer's maximum prices for sales of mixed fertilizer, superphosphate and potash f. o. b. his plant or warehouse shall be determined by subtracting from his delivered prices the freight allowances which he included in his price schedule in effect on October 15, 1941.

(3) Prices for grades not listed. A manufacturer's maximum prices for sales of a grade of mixed fertilizer, superphosphate and potash which was not listed in his price schedule effective on October 15, 1941, shall be a price authorized, upon application of the manufacturer, by an order of the Director, which price shall be in line with those established by this regulation for grades which were offered for sale by the manufacturer in his price schedule effective October 15, 1941.

(c) Manufacturers' maximum prices for cash sales of nitrogenous fertilizer material. The maximum price for a cash sale of nitrogenous fertilizer material by fertilizer manufacturers, direct or through agents, to a consumer shall be:

(1) The manufacturer's actual landed cost of the material in the case of ammonium nitrate; or the manufacturer's weighted average landed cost of each material, calculated as of July 1, October 1, January 1, and April 1, in the case of sulphate of ammonia or any other nitrogenous fertilizer material, for all of the lots of each material received by him during the quarter-annual period last preceding the date of the calculation; or, if none was received in that period, the cost of the latest quarter-annual period in which material was received.

(2) An additional amount equal to the fertilizer manufacturer's expenditure, if any, for transportation of the nitrogenous fertilizer material within the territory to the fertilizer manufacturer's plant or warehouse or direct to the buyer's delivery point.

(3) An additional 50 cents per ton if the nitrogenous fertilizer material is stored in and delivered from the fertilizer manufacturer's plant.

(4) Plus the actual cost of bags used, and $1.00 per ton when such nitrogenous fertilizer material is received in bulk by the fertilizer manufacturer and resold in bags.

(5) An additional amount equal to the cost of governmental tax tags, if any, and the attaching thereof, or governmental tonnage or inspection tax, but no license cost or registration fee.

(6) In addition a maximum margin of: $4.00 per ton if the cost (subparagraphs (1) through (5)) is less than $40.00 per ton; $5.00 per ton if such cost is $40.00 or more but less than $50.00 per ton; $6.00 per ton if such cost is $50.00 or more but less than $60.00 per ton; $7.00 per ton if such cost is $60.00 or more but less than $70.00 per ton; $8.00 per ton if such cost is $70.00 or more per ton.

(7) An additional 50 cents per ton if the nitrogenous fertilizer material is stored in and delivered from a warehouse owned or operated by a fertilizer manufacturer or agent.

(8) An additional amount equal to the actual transportation expense incurred in making delivery from a fertilizer manufacturer's plant or warehouse or from the buyer's delivery point to the consumer.

(9) An amount equal to the actual loading or handling charges incurred in making delivery to the buyer.

(d) Manufacturer's maximum prices for credit sales of nitrogenous fertilizer material. In the case of credit sales, credit terms shall not be more onerous on Spring season sales than those in effect and applicable to such dealer or consumer for the period from February 16, 1942, to February 20, 1942, inclusive, and for Fall season sales credit terms shall not be more onerous than those in effect and applicable to such dealer or consumer for the period from October 1, 1941, to October 15, 1941, inclusive.

(e) Filing of price schedules by manufacturers. Not later than July 1, 1944, every manufacturer of mixed fertilizer, superphosphate, potash and nitrogenous materials in Puerto Rico shall file with the Office of Price Administration, San Juan, Puerto Rico, a complete schedule of prices in effect on that date and thereafter shall file within five days of their effective date all supplements and amendments to price schedules in effect on July 1, 1944.

(f) Dealer's maximum prices for mixed fertilizer, superphosphate, potash and nitrogenous materials—(1) Cash prices. A dealer's maximum cash prices for sales of mixed fertilizer, superphosphate, potash or nitrogenous materials shall be determined by adding together the following factors:

(i) The manufacturer's maximum time price on a sale of the same quantity.

(ii) The actual transportation cost, if any, incurred by the dealer from the manufacturer's plant or warehouse to the dealer's place of business: Provided, That such transportation cost may not exceed the customary carrier charge for a similar shipment, whether such transportation be accomplished by a common or contract carrier or any other person.

(iii) An amount equal to five percent of the sum of subparagraphs (1) and (2).

(2) Time prices. A dealer's maximum time prices for sales of fertilizer, superphosphate, potash and nitrogenous material shall be equal to his maximum cash prices, plus six percent.

(3) Special rules affecting sales by wholesalers and retailers. (i) At the close of business on September 17, 1946, you must determine the number of pounds of each item of sugar that you own for resale at that time. You must make and keep a record of that inventory at your place of business. After that date you must continue to sell each item of sugar at no more than the ceiling price you had in effect on September 17, 1946, until you have sold an amount equal to your September 17, 1946, inventory of the item. When you have sold that amount, you may charge the prices set forth in paragraph (b) (1).

(ii) On purchases of sugar made by you on and after September 18, 1946, your supplier will notify you whether he is charging you his ceiling price in effect on September 17. If you receive such notifications, you must continue to sell such sugar at no more than the ceiling price you had in effect on September 17, 1946.

(c) Filing of affidavit. Each person (other than a wholesaler or retailer) owning cane sugars at 11:59 p. m., September 17, 1946, shall not later than October 10, 1946, send by registered mail addressed to Commodity Credit Corporation, 150 Broadway, New York 7, New York, an affidavit setting out the following amounts of sugar owned by him at 11:59 p. m., September 17, 1946:

(1) The total number of pounds of raw cane sugars (including cane juice and its derivatives in the process of being made into raw cane sugar) adjusted to a 96 degree polarization basis.

(2) The total number of pounds of refined turbinado and washed sugar.

(3) The total number of pounds of raw sugar (converted to a refined basis) in process of refinement.

If any part of a refiner's inventory consists of sugars acquired from a mill other than a mill owned or controlled by him, the refiner must specify how much of the amounts of sugar described in subparagraphs (1), (2) and (3) consists of such outside sugar.

(d) Payment to Commodity Credit Corporation. Any person (other than a wholesaler or retailer) owning cane sugars at 11:59 p. m., September 17, 1946, who elects to sell at the increased maximum prices on September 18, 1946, shall make a statement to that effect in the affidavit described in paragraph (c) and shall make payment by check or money order payable in New York funds to the Commodity Credit Corporation in an amount computed as follows:

(1) The total number of pounds of refined, turbinado and washed cane sugar, plus the total number of pounds of cane sugar (converted to a refined basis) in process of refinement, plus the total number of pounds of cane sugar (converted to a turbinado basis) in process of conversion to turbinado, multiplied by 1.47 cents per pound; plus

(2) The total number of pounds of raw cane sugars (including cane juice and its derivatives in the process of being made into raw cane sugar) adjusted to a 96 degree polarization basis, multiplied by 1.37 cents per pound.

Payment may be made at the time of filing the affidavit or monthly payments shall be made within 60 days following the close of the calendar month for the amount of such sugar sold during such month, until the full amount due has been paid. The maximum price in event of failure to make such payment or payments, shall be the maximum price in effect prior to September 18, 1946.

(e) Election to sell inventory at lower price. Any person owning cane sugars at 11:59 p. m., September 17, 1946, may, in lieu of making payment to Commodity Credit Corporation, described in paragraph (d) above, elect to sell or otherwise dispose of the entire amount of his inventory at or below his maximum prices in effect on September 17, 1946. Such person shall state in the affidavit described in paragraph (c) that he elects to sell his inventory at the lower price. At such time as he has sold an amount equal to his September 17 inventory, he shall file by registered mail with the Commodity Credit Corporation a final affidavit stating that he has fully complied with the requirements of this paragraph (e).

After mailing the final affidavit in proper form such person may sell at the maximum prices set out in paragraphs (a) and (b).

(b) Relation to other regulations. This section shall not apply to contractors' charges which are subject to the provisions of Maximum Price Regulation No. 157, Sales and Fabrication of Textiles, Apparel and Related Articles for Military Purposes.

(c) Definitions. (1) The term "contractor" includes any person who performs one or more processes of manufacturing in the production of an article of apparel, on materials supplied by a principal, and who receives payment for the process or processes so performed and for the furnishing of materials, if any, that are incidental to such operations: Provided, That the contractor who furnishes materials, the value of which constitutes 30 percent or more of the price charged for his services or who furnishes more material than is customary in services of the type rendered, is excluded hereunder. It shall also include any person engaged in examining, shrinking and sponging of woolen or worsted fabrics.

(2) A material shall be deemed "supplied" by a principal to a contractor if:

(i) It is consigned, or,

(ii) It is sold pursuant to an agreement providing that the articles of apparel to be processed from the material shall be sold only to the principal, at a price based upon the cost of material to the contractor plus a charge for his services and for any materials incidentally supplied by the contractor.

(3) A "principal" includes any person who engages the services of a contractor, as defined in paragraph (c) of this section, in the procurement, manufacture, or production of an article of apparel for the purposes of resale by the principal. A principal may or may not perform processes of manufacture on the article of apparel in addition to those performed by the contractor, and may himself be a contractor, as defined in subparagraph (1) of this section.

(4) An "article of apparel" shall include all apparel, apparel furnishings and accessories made by cutting and selling methods or knitting processes, except men's fur-felt, wool-felt, and silk hats and bodies, and men's, women's and children's footwear.

(5) "Consigned" means consigned, loaned, charged on memorandum or other agreement whereby title to the goods transferred is retained by the principal.

(6) "This dollar-and-cents charge made by the contractor" for the same or similar services in March 1942 is determined by subtracting the actual cost of direct labor in March 1942 from the highest price charged in March 1942, to a purchaser of the same class by the contractor for his services. If the contractor made no charge in March 1942, to a purchaser of the same class, then the same dollar-and-cents charge made to a purchaser of a different class shall be adjusted to reflect the contractor's customary differential between the two classes of purchasers.

(7) "Articles of the same type" are articles of apparel having the same use and which customarily sell in the same departments at retail (for example: infants' underwear, gloves, household linen, wearing apparel, etc.).

(8) "Contractor of the same class" means a contractor (i) performing the same function, (ii) of similar type, (iii) dealing in the same type of commodities or services, and (iv) selling to the same class or classes of purchaser. A seller's "most closely competitive contractor of the same class" shall be a contractor of the same class who (a) is selling the same or a similar commodity or service, and (b) is closely competitive in the sale of such commodities or services, and (c) is located nearest to the seller.

(d) Maximum contractor's charges. The seller's maximum price for any service governed by this section shall be as follows:

(1) Where the material is consigned to the contractor. The total of the following:

(i) The direct labor cost of the services;

(ii) A charge equivalent to the dollars-and-cents charge made by the contractor for the same or similar services in March 1942.

Direct labor cost shall be computed on the basis of wage rates ordered by the Wage and Hour Division of the United States Department of Labor for the needlework industries in Puerto Rico, effective January 1, 1945, and actually paid by the contractors.

(2) Where the material is sold to the contractor. The total of the following:

(i) The direct labor cost of the service, which shall be computed according to subparagraph (1) above;

(ii) A charge equivalent to the dollars-and-cents charge made by the contractor for the same or similar services in March 1942;

(iii) The actual cost to the contractor of the material sold to the contractor by the principal.

(3) Where the contractor cannot determine his price under (1) or (2). If the contractor cannot determine the maximum price for a service pursuant to subparagraphs (1) or (2) above, the maximum price for such service shall be the total of the following:

(i) Direct labor cost of the service, which shall be computed as in subparagraph (1);

(ii) A charge equivalent to the dollars-and-cents charge made by the contractor in March 1942;

(a) For the services rendered in connection with the manufacturing of the most closely related article of the same type; or

(b) If the contractor did not furnish services in connection with the manufacture of articles of the same type, then the same dollars-and-cents charge over direct labor cost made by his most closely competitive contractor of the same class in March 1942 for services performed on the manufacture of articles of the same type.

(e) Records and reports. (1) Every person making any charges subject to this section on or after January 1, 1945, shall keep for inspection by the Office of Price Administration for a period so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, remains effective, complete and accurate records of:

(ii) Such person shall keep such records in addition to or in lieu of the records required by this section as the Office of Price Administration may from time to time require.

(iii) Such person shall submit such reports to the Office of Price Administration as it may from time to time require.

(iv) A contractor furnishing services in connection with the production of an article of apparel which the principal is required to price under Maximum Price Regulation 287, or Maximum Price Regulation 570, shall within five days after request by the principal, furnish all information needed by the principal to prepare the records required by those regulations.

(4) For a job lot sold intact, as received, the maximum price shall be computed by multiplying the direct cost of the job lot by the applicable multiplier in accordance with paragraph (b) (1) above.

(5) For each product received in a job lot, the maximum price shall be the price fixed by the seller, provided that the total of the prices charged for each product within the job lot in which the particular product was received does not exceed the maximum price for the job lot, and provided that he notifies the Office of Price Administration of such prices in accordance with the requirements of paragraph (f) below.

(6) If a job lot consists of items falling within more than one of the groups of textile products set forth in paragraph (a) (1) the maximum price for the entire lot shall be computed by applying the lowest multiplier appropriate to any item in the lot.

(7) Notwithstanding the foregoing provisions, any seller who has continuously sold an imported textile product pursuant to the conditions and prices of a written resale price maintenance contract executed by him with the manufacturer prior to April 1942 without any deterioration in quality since that date may apply to the Director of the Office of Price Administration for an order permitting him and other sellers similarly situated to sell such product at the price specified in the contract, or at a price equal to the direct cost to the importer of such product multiplied by 1.67, whichever is lower.

(c) Maximum prices for locally manufactured textile products. Maximum prices for locally manufactured textile products sold or delivered shall be as follows:

(1) The maximum price for a product which is not part of a job lot shall be the factory price if purchased from a manufacturer, or the price charged by the contractor to the seller if manufactured by a contractor for the seller's account, plus actual cost of materials supplied by the seller, multiplied by:

Group:	Sales at retail
A.....	1.25
B.....	1.28

(3) The maximum price for a product which is part of a job lot shall be the price fixed by the seller: Provided, That the total of the prices charged for each product within the job lot in which the particular product was received does not exceed the maximum price for the entire job lot determined in accordance with paragraph (c) (1) above: And provided, That he notified the Office of Price Administration of such prices in accordance with the requirements of paragraph (f) below, as applicable.

(4) All sellers of locally manufactured textile products, except sellers at retail shall furnish the purchaser with a sales invoice showing the following information: date of sale, number, and description of units sold, the price charged per unit or in the sale of a job lot the price charged for the entire lot. Copies of all such invoices shall be kept for inspection by the OPA for so long as the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, shall remain in effect.

(5) If a job lot consists of items falling within more than one of the groups of textile products set forth in paragraph (a) (1) the maximum price for the entire lot shall be computed by applying the lowest multiplier appropriate to any item in the lot.

(d) Trade practices. The markups authorized herein are gross markups which shall not be exceeded regardless of the number of sellers handling a textile product. No seller shall change his customary allowances, discounts or other price differentials or his customary alteration charges unless such change results in a lower net price.

(e) Prohibited practices. It shall be unlawful for any seller to improperly classify a textile product for the purpose of evading the appropriate pricing provision herein. It shall be unlawful for any seller to revise any maximum price fixed on a textile product and entered in his textile reference book except as otherwise provided in paragraph (h) (2).

(f) Notification to OPA on sales of job lots. Within five days of his first sale of a textile product from a job lot the seller shall file a statement with the Office of Price Administration, San Juan, Puerto Rico, and a duplicate thereof with the appropriate Price Control Board, which statement shall show the name and address of the person from whom the job lot was purchased, a description of the job lot, the number of units included in each class of textile products, the direct cost of the job lot to the seller if it was imported by the seller, or the price paid for the job lot if it was not imported by the seller, the reference stock numbers assigned as provided in paragraph (g), the selling price of each unit or group of units as determined in accordance with the pricing provisions of paragraph (b) of this section, and the over-all markup taken by the seller on the job lot.

(g) Identification of textile products. Every seller shall assign a separate reference stock number to each price classification of textile products and shall clearly identify the physical merchandise with the reference stock number by use of a label, tag, slip, sticker, mark, or other similar appropriate marking.

(h) Textile reference book. (1) Every person selling textile products shall prepare a textile reference book which he shall keep and make available for examination by the Office of Price Administration, in which shall be entered prior to the time any textile product is sold or offered for sale, the following information for each price classification of textile products in the seller's stock: The reference stock number, a description of the units comprised, the name and address of the supplier, except in the case of merchandise from a job lot, the date of delivery except in the case of merchandise in a job lot, the multiplier used in computing the maximum price, the direct cost to the seller or the price paid by the seller whichever price is material in accordance with the pricing provisions utilized, and the seller's selling price at wholesale or at retail depending upon the level at which he sells.

(2) The maximum price charged by each seller and entered in his textile reference book shall in no instance be altered except that should the seller have erroneously computed the price for an item entered in such book, the seller's appropriate Price Control Board may, after having received a written statement of the fact from the seller, if satisfied that the entry was the result of a miscalculation, authorize such seller to change the entry to correspond with the maximum price which he is authorized to charge in accordance with this regulation.

(3) All entries in the textile reference book shall be made in numerical sequence. Textile products received by the seller which are identical to products earlier entered into the reference book shall be re-entered under a new reference stock number.

(4) Notification to customers. Every person selling an imported textile product except at retail shall with each delivery supply the purchaser with a statement, which may be included in and made a part of the seller's invoice, specifying with respect to each price classification delivered: the seller's reference stock number, a notation of the pricing provisions employed, the number and description of units sold, and the price charged. This provision supersedes section 1.9 (b) of this Second Revised Maximum Price Regulation 183 with respect to sales of imported textile products.

Section 14 of the General Maximum Price Regulation ("Sales Slips and Receipts") applies to sales of textile products by local manufacturers.

(i) Exemptions. The provisions of this section shall not apply to the following:

(j) Duty. Notwithstanding the provisions of section 1.14 (a) (6), the duty paid on any imported textile product shall not be figured in the seller's direct cost. However, such duty may be added to the seller's maximum price, and except on sales at retail, shall be separately stated on the seller's invoice.

(5) "Unmendable" bag means an "unprocessed" bag of sound material which can be reused as a container but which is cut or torn from previous use to such an extent that it cannot feasibly be mended or patched to fit the specification of a "processed" or "in order" bag.

(6) "Bag dealer" means any person who processes, reconditions, or places second hand bags in condition for reuse.

(7) "Capacity" means the number of pounds of the product which the bag was constructed to contain.

(2) For shoes which have not been imported by the seller and which were not received by him as a part of a job lot, the price paid to the importer multiplied by:

(5) For shoes purchased in a job lot, part of which job lot has been sold prior to the effective date of this regulation, the price established and filed with the appropriate Price Control Board in accordance with the requirements of the General Maximum Price Regulation. (c) Duty. On all shoes on which duty is payable, the seller may add to the price of each pair of shoes the charge for duty which he has paid on them. Sales of imported shoes at wholesale on which duty has been paid shall be so invoiced as to state the amount of duty separately from the price charged for the shoes.

(d) Trade practices. The markups authorized herein are gross markups which shall not be exceeded regardless of any additional, unexpected, or unusual costs which the seller may have incurred or of the number of sellers handling the shoes. (v) Housewares (such as step-ladders, stool ladders, ironing boards, towel stands or bars, clothes driers, hat and shoe racks, medicine and toilet cabinets).

(vi) Furniture manufactured in Puerto Rico or in a foreign country.

(2) "Net cost" means the price paid for the article f. o. b. factory or f. o. b. wholesaler's warehouse, as the case may be, less Federal excise tax, if any, plus direct transportation costs to the seller's place of business in Puerto Rico (excluding demurrage and forwarding fees).

(3) "Manufacturer" means the person who makes the first sale of the completed article, that is, the first person having title to the article after it has been fabricated, and is ready for use, regardless of whether or not he has fabricated it. If a person purchases a completed article, and then resells it after making changes in it, he is a manufacturer of the changed article.

(b) Maximum prices. (1) The seller's maximum price for household furniture imported from the continental United States, delivered within city limits, shall be the net cost thereof multiplied by the applicable factor set forth below:

	At whole-sale	At retail
Group One
Household furniture purchased directly from the manufacturer:
(i) Where no price increase has been authorized by the OPA at the manufacturing level prior to April 1, 1946.....	$1.20	$1.75
(ii) Where a price increase of 5% or less has been authorized by the OPA at the manufacturing level prior to April 1, 1946.....	1.18	1.68

(ii) Where a price increase of 5% or less has been authorized by the OPA at the manufacturing level prior to April 1, 1946.....	(1)	$1.42
(iii) Where a price increase in excess of 5% has been authorized by the OPA at the manufacturing level prior to April 1, 1946.....	(1)	$1.35

¹For sales at wholesale the maximum price shall be the direct cost to the importer.

²These markups shall also apply to sales of household furniture imported from continental United States purchased from a wholesaler in Puerto Rico.

(c) Notification to purchasers. The importer shall, at the time of, or prior to the first delivery to a purchaser, notify the purchaser in writing of his maximum retail price under this section.

(d) Tagging. No person may sell at retail an article of household furniture unless there is attached to such article a tag or label containing the OPA retail ceiling price, the amount of Insular tax, if any, paid by the seller; a statement that the price includes delivery within city limits, and a statement that the tag or label may not be removed until the article is delivered to the consumer.

(e) Credit charges. Any retailer who during April 10 to May 10, 1942, collected a separately stated additional charge for the extension of credit on sales of household furniture, may collect a charge for the extension of credit under this section not exceeding the retailer's customary charge for credit during April 10 to May 10, 1942, or 9% per annum, whichever is lower, on the unpaid balance of the applicable maximum price. A retailer who did not state and collect an additional charge, may collect a charge for the extension of credit only on installment-plan sales, but such charge shall not exceed 9% per annum on the unpaid balance of the applicable maximum price.

An installment-plan sale as used in this section means a sale where the unpaid balance is to be paid in installments over a period of either (1) six weeks or more from the date of sale in the case of weekly installments, or (2) eight weeks or more in the case of other than weekly installments.

All charges for the extension of credit shall be quoted and stated separately. Any charge which is not quoted and stated separately shall, for the purposes of this section, be considered to be part of the price charged for the item of furniture sold.

No retailer may require as a condition of sale that the consumer must buy on credit.

SEC. 13.1 Maximum prices for toys and games. (a) The maximum prices for toys and games shall be:

(2) For toys and games purchased from a supplier other than the manufacturer, the direct cost to the importer, as defined in section 1.14 (a) (6), multiplied by 1.11 for sales at wholesale, and by 1.55 for sales at retail.

are governed by the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation.

STATEMENT OF THE CONSIDERATIONS INVOLVED IN THE ISSUANCE OF THIRD REVISED MAXIMUM PRICE REGULATION 183

Second Revised Maximum Price Regulation 183 was issued June 23, 1945. Since then it has been amended twenty-three times. Certain additional changes remain to be made at this time which involve revisions of prices due to changes in cost, deletions of commodities no longer on the market, the inclusion of additional commodities, a rearrangement of certain sections for ease of reference, corrections of minor errors, and rewriting of certain provisions to make them more explicit. For purposes of clarity, it has been determined to include the changes currently being made and the amendments heretofore issued in a revision of the regulation which is designated Third Revised Maximum Price Regulation 183. Except for the aforementioned changes, this revised regulation restates all the provisions of Second Revised Maximum Price Regulation 183.

The principal substantive changes are as follows: Specific dollar-and-cent prices or markups are established for a large number of additional food and consumer durable goods items. Maximum prices for most of these commodities were previously established by the Director through Interim Orders G-41 to G-49, inclusive, pursuant to the authority conferred upon him by section 1.2 (c) of the regulation. Maximum prices for other commodities were established by individual adjustment orders under the General Maximum Price Regulation, which was the applicable control for such commodities prior to this revision. The established prices and markups reflect on the average the percentage markups in effect on March 31, 1946.

Included among the new items added are imported rope of all kinds, locally manufactured millwork, aluminum cooking pots and charcoal stoves manufactured in Puerto Rico, small electrical appliances, and household furniture imported from the United States. The prices established for the locally manufactured products reflect the average base period prices plus average wage and material cost increases. Invoicing provisions are added to sections 2.6 and 2.8, which provide maximum prices for steel sheets and concrete reinforcing bars, and the invoice requirements under section 2.6 (lumber) are broadened.

The sections providing maximum prices for cigarettes, dairy products, poultry and kerosine are revoked. In extending the Emergency Price Control Act and reviving regulations thereunder, the Price Control Extension Act left these commodities, among others, free from price control. These commodities may not be brought back under control except in accordance with the provisions of section 1A (e) (8) of said Act.

The Administrator has advised and consulted with representative members of the industries and trades affected and has given consideration to their recommendations.

On the whole, such specifications and standards as are used in the regulation were, prior to such use, in general use in the trade or industry affected or were required by other Government agencies. Insofar as this regulation uses specifications and standards which were not, prior to such use, in general use in the trade or industry affected, or insofar as their use was not lawfully required by another Government agency, the Administrator has determined, with respect to such standardization, that no practicable alternative exists for securing effective price control and prevention of circumvention or evasion of this revised regulation.

In addition, all provisions of this regulation and their effect upon business practices, cost practices or methods, or means or aids to distribution in the industry or industries affected have been carefully considered. No provision which might have the effect of requiring a change in such practices, means, aids or methods established in the industry or industries affected have been included in the regulation unless such provisions have been found necessary to achieve effective price control and to prevent circumvention or evasion of the regulation or of the Act. To the extent that the provisions of this regulation compel or may operate to compel changes in business practices, cost practices or methods, or means or aids to distribution established in the industry or industries affected, such provisions are necessary to prevent circumvention or evasion of this regulation or of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

In the opinion of the Administrator, the maximum prices established by this revised regulation are generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and the executive orders of the President.

Automotive equipment solid neoprene fan belts.....	8.6

The manufacturer shall then deduct from the resulting figures, all discounts, allowances and other deductions from the list price that he had in effect to the purchaser of the same class on October 1, 1941.

Then determine the maximum price by deducting from the base price all discounts, allowances and other deductions from the base price for transmission belting that the manufacturer had in effect to a purchaser of the same class on October 1, 1941. The manufacturer may add a charge for splicing, stitching and other operations associated with the manufacture of belting calculated on the same basis that he calculated such charges on October 1, 1941.

STATEMENT OF THE CONSIDERATIONS INVOLVED IN THE ISSUANCE OF AMENDMENT 30 TO MAXIMUM PRICE REGULATION 149

Amendment 27 to Maximum Price Regulation 149, effective April 8, 1946, increased manufacturers' maximum prices for rubber hose and belting so as to allow these producers to recover their base period rate of return on current net worth. The adjustment granted by Amendment 27 was based on increases in costs that accrued prior to March 15, 1946. Since March 15, 1946, the cost of fabrics used in the production of rubber hose and belting has increased substantially so that existing maximum prices do not allow manufacturers their base period rate of return on net worth. After giving effect to these increases in fabric costs, it has been found that average total costs for the industry have increased 20.31% over October 1945 costs instead of 11.32% which was the case when Amendment 27 was issued. The existing maximum prices for rubber hose and belting must be increased from 4.21% for some items, to 14.12% for other items, if manufacturers are to recover their increased fabric costs since March 15, 1946. Accordingly, such increases are granted by the current action which is of an interim nature. These increases are required by the earnings standard and will allow manufacturers a percentage return on net worth that is not greater than during the base period.

The statement of considerations accompanying Amendment 27 sets forth the reasons for the action there taken and describes the criteria used in that action in allowing increased prices for rubber belting and hose. The same criteria are used in the current action and the reasons given for the increases in prices for these products that were granted by Amendment 27 apply to the action here taken, except that this action reflects the additional increased fabric costs that have occurred since March 15, 1946. Since it appears that other costs of production have also increased since Amendment 27 was issued, it is expected that further studies will be made and that the current action, as well as the action taken by Amendment 27, will be reviewed as soon as further cost data are obtained. In view of the possible ill effects of higher textile costs upon current production of these products under existing maximum prices, it has been deemed inadvisable to withhold this relief reflecting only increased fabric costs until such further data can be obtained and studied.

Maximum prices for sales of rubber hose and belting by wholesalers are by this action increased by the same percents as the manufacturers' prices. Thus, the margin of these resellers may be maintained at levels that were in effect on March 31, 1946, in accordance with the requirements of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. Retailers may secure similar adjustment in their maximum prices under appropriate regulations of the Office of Price Administration.

The Administrator has consulted with members of the industry and has given consideration to their recommendations. In the opinion of the Administrator, the maximum prices established by this action are fair and equitable and are consistent with and effectuate the provisions of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and the Executive orders of the President.

PART 1316—COTTON TEXTILES

[RPS 35,¹ Amdt. 32]

CARDED GREY AND COLORED YARN COTTON GOODS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Revised Price Schedule No. 35 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 1316.51 (d) is added to read as follows:

(d) Except for sales and deliveries of short length, run of mill fabrics one yard or more, and mill seconds one yard or more, for which discounts are specifically set forth, the maximum prices for all fabrics listed herein shall be reduced on all sales and deliveries of run of mill short lengths, and mill seconds, by the appropriate percentage in the following table:

	Percent
Seconds -----	5
Run of mill shorts:
20 yards to 39.99 yards -----	5
10 yards to 19.99 yards -----	12.5
1 yard to 9.99 yards -----	25

2. Footnote 3 to the Table in § 1316.61 (a) is revoked.

3. Footnote 2 to Table II in § 1316.61 (b) (4) is revoked.

4. Footnote 1 to Table III in § 1316.61 (b) (4) is revoked.

5. The sentence in Table VII in § 1316.61 (b) (4) reading "for seconds and short lengths the maximum prices shall be discounted by five percent" is revoked.

This amendment shall become effective October 14, 1946.

Issued this 8th day of October 1946.

GEOFFREY BAKER,
Acting Administrator.

STATEMENT OF THE CONSIDERATIONS INVOLVED IN THE ISSUANCE OF AMENDMENT NO. 32 TO REVISED PRICE SCHEDULE NO. 35, AMENDMENT NO. 44 TO MAXIMUM PRICE REGULATION NO. 118

The accompanying amendment establishes uniform discounts of general applicability to all sales and deliveries of mill seconds, and short length run of mill fabrics, in lengths between one yard and 39.99 yards, covered by Revised Price Schedule No. 35 and Maximum Price Regulation No. 118, except those fabrics for which specific seconds and shorts discounts contained in the various cotton textile regulations remain in force and effect.

Concurrently all provisions for a uniform discount for shorts and seconds of five percent regardless of length, are being revoked.

Customarily discounts for shorts very inversely to fabric lengths. This is true because the waste and the labor costs incurred by converters and cutters increase as fabric lengths decrease. The discount table established by this amendment is a reasonable reflection of normal trade practices prior to price control.

It applies to fabrics for which maximum prices are established in Revised Price Schedule No. 35 and Maximum Price Regulation No. 118, and for which no discount provisions for shorts and seconds remain in effect. It applies further to fabrics one yard to 1.99 yards in length when discounts in these lengths are not spelled out in the appropriate regulations.

The provision establishing a maximum price of 20.37 cents for prices of duck less than 2 yards in length is revoked as being no longer adequate. Ducks in these lengths will be discounted or sold as pound goods the same as other fabrics.

Pound goods and remnants less than 10 yards in length which have normally been priced under section 2 (a) of the General Maximum Price Regulation are being granted a 25% increase in section

3b (x) of Supplementary Order No. 131 simultaneously with the action. Therefore mingled lots of such goods (priced under the formula outlined in § 1400.101 (b) of Maximum Price Regulation No. 118) and General Maximum Price Regulation pound goods may now use the price established in Supplementary Order No. 131, which includes a 25% increase over the General Maximum Price Regulation price.

Remnants one yard to 9.99 yards, when not mingled with General Maximum Price Regulation goods, are now priced at the current ceilings for full length, first quality fabrics, less the appropriate discount for shorts established in § 1400.101 (g). The only exception to this rule is that sellers who delivered fabrics between one yard and 9.99 yards in length as pound goods during the base period established in Maximum Price Regulation No. 118 may establish prices by using either the discount provisions established in § 1400.101 (g) or the pricing formula outlined in § 1400.101 (b) (1), the latter increased by 25%. This exception is made to prevent hardship to producers who normally sold remnants up to 10 yards in length as pound goods during the base period and who would now find it difficult to sort out pieces between 1 yard and 9.99 yards from substantial quantities of pound goods less than 1 yard in length.

2. Footnote 1 in Table 1 of section 2.1 (c) (6) is corrected to read as follows:

STATEMENT OF THE CONSIDERATIONS INVOLVED IN THE ISSUANCE OF AMENDMENT NO. 2 TO THE 3D REVISED MAXIMUM EXPORT PRICE REGULATION

The accompanying amendment alters the 3d Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation in several minor respects. Certain provisions of the 2d Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation, which were omitted from the 3d Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation, again are incorporated in the regulation. Some provisions are made more explicit, all in accordance with the original intent of the 3d Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation. Applicable statements from the statements of consideration which accompanied the 2d Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation and its amendments, as well as from the statement of considerations which accompanied the 3d Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation, are adopted for this statement of considerations as fully as if set out herein.

In the order as set out in the accompanying amendment, provisions are explained and justified as follows:

Certain export sales are exempted from price control when delivery of the commodity is made to purchasers located in a foreign area by the exporter, the exporter's branch or agent through such exporter's regularly established retail outlets located in such foreign areas or when made by the exporter, his agent or branch located in the United Kingdom of Great Britain, Australia, New Zealand, Union of South Africa, Canada, Puerto Rico, Hawaii, Alaska, Virgin Islands or the Philippines. The exemption of such sales is a carry-over from the 2d Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation except that additional areas have been added. These areas are those in which price control is exercised to an extent deemed sufficient to accomplish the purposes of the export regulation.

Under the 2d Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation Provision was made for computation of maximum prices on sales to exporters on the basis of domestic sale maximum prices applicable to the transaction. In carrying over the provision as a sale for export in the 3d Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation, the basis for the computation of a maximum price was set out as that applicable to a domestic sale by the seller to a primary wholesaler. This was considered as the prevailing type of transaction on sales for export. It has been found that sales for export are made not only to primary wholesalers but also to industrial users and others to such an extent that it has been deemed proper to revise the wording by use of "the person purchasing" instead of "primary wholesaler".

The 3d Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation set out specific limitations on the allowable additions to the basic maximum domestic prices in the computation of maximum export prices. The allowable costs were set out in detail. Costs of forwarding were limited to those actually paid to a freight forwarder. It has been found that certain exporters maintain separate departments and perform the services of a freight forwarder at costs less than those ordinarily charged by freight forwarders, and it is considered proper to permit the continuation of this practice. Hence, provision is made that where no freight forwarder is employed, an exporter who performs freight forwarding services may add his charge for such services on his last sale prior to March 31, 1946.

The 3d Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation permitted certain credit charges in cases of payment upon drafts on sales by merchant-exporters. After further review of historical practices in the trade, it has been determined as proper to permit such charges not only for merchant-exporters but for producer-exporters also. Furthermore, it is deemed proper to allow the same charges in connection with credit on open account as those allowable for payments on drafts, the risks on open account sales being as great, if not greater, than those on draft payment.

The explanation of a producer-exporter's markup is made more specific by this amendment. The intent that the markup of a producer-exporter is the excess of his price on a sale of a commodity to a purchaser outside the continental United States over the price on its sale for domestic use to a domestic purchaser similar to the purchaser outside the continental United States is more directly expressed.

The meaning of receiving an order directly without transmission through any third party in the continental United States from the purchaser outside the continental United States is made more definite by a provision of this amendment that the order shall be received by the customary cable or mail channels from the purchaser who, at the time of ordering, is located outside the United States.

The limitation of markups on sales of exporters other than producers to markups applicable on sales by a producer is revised by this amendment to eliminate some of the features which appeared to bring about undue hardship. The provision under this amendment prevents merchant-exporters from using a markup in excess of a producer-exporter's markup if (1) such exporter is a corporation or business organization owned or controlled by or under common ownership with the producer of the lot of the commodity being priced, or (2) if the lot of the commodity being priced is of a type purchased from a producer of that type of commodity to whom such exporter made a sale of the same type of commodity within a period of 6 months before the date of export sale. This provision is particularly designed to point out practices that would be evasions of the intent of the regulation. It prevents a mere export department or subsidiary of a producer-exporter from acting as a separate entity to obtain higher markups. It also prevents the swapping, trading or exchanging of commodities between producers for the purpose of obtaining higher markups.

"Manufactured end products" are defined by the amendment as those products completed processed, which without change of character or addition are in condition for sale at retail and for use by an ultimate consumer. This definition was added in order to eliminate any misunderstanding as to the commodities under the classification of manufactured end products.

The scope of the contracts savings provision has been extended to cover sales made by producer-exporters, it having been determined that it was as equitable for them as for merchant-exporters to be accorded a period for closing out commitments without loss. The time before which shipment must be made has been extended to January 1, 1947.

On export sales of textiles by producer-exporters to purchasers located in Canada, provision is made permitting application of markups used during the base period of the regulation, as well as the 3% markup specifically set out. The 3% markup allowed by the 3d Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation, as explained in the statement of considerations, was designed to assist purchasers in Canada to obtain supplies according to commitments made by the United States. It was not intended to restrict the opportunity of Canadian purchasers.

Certain other minor changes in wording are effected by this amendment which the mere reading shows as obviously in conformity with the intent explained by the statement of considerations accompanying the 3d Revised Maximum Export Price Regulation.

The accompanying amendment is found by the Price Administrator to be generally fair and equitable and to effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and the Executive orders of the President.

PART 1386—SOAP AND GLYCERINE

[MPR 391, Amdt. 9]

HOUSEHOLD SOAPS AND CLEANSERS SOLD BY MANUFACTURERS AND CERTAIN WHOLESALESALES

A statement of the consideration involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed today with the Division of the Federal Register.

Maximum Price Regulation 391 is amended in the following respects:

1. The heading and introductory paragraph of section 5 (g) are amended to read as follows:

(g) How to compute your carload ceiling price on a new-size pack. By "new-size pack" is meant a pack containing a number of units different than the number in any pack for which a maximum price has been established.

2. Section 5 (g) (4) is amended by deleting from the "Instructions" contained therein, the following words: "... assembled in compliance with War Production Board Limitation Order No. 317—Fibre Shipping Containers, dated March 23, 1944". . . .

3. The heading and introductory paragraph of section 6 (j) is amended to read as follows:

(j) Instructions—How to compute your ceiling prices on a new-size pack. By "new-size pack" is meant a pack containing a number of units different than the number in any pack for which a maximum price has been established.

4. Subdivisions (i) (ii) and (iii) of section 7a (b) (1) are amended by deleting therefrom the following: "... currently or during the year 1942 (whichever is lower), . . ."

This amendment shall become effective October 14, 1946.

Issued this 8th day of October 1946.

GEOFFREY BAKER,
Acting Administrator.

STATEMENT OF THE CONSIDERATIONS INVOLVED IN THE ISSUANCE OF AMENDMENT 9 TO MAXIMUM PRICE REGULATION 391

The accompanying amendment effects a minor but necessary change in the individual adjustment provision of Maximum Price Regulation 391 by putting such adjustments on a current basis and permits continuation of the procedure for pricing new size packs notwithstanding the revocation of War Production Board Limitation Order 317—Fibre Shipping Containers, dated March 23, 1944.

Prior to this amendment, a limitation was placed on individual adjustments whereby it was mandatory to use the lower of either current indirect factory costs and administrative and selling expenses or those existing in 1942 in determining the amount of the adjustment to be allowed. The purpose of such limitation was to disallow such costs to the extent that they exceeded base period levels, and the effect was to have the adjustment compensate primarily for increases in direct labor and material costs.

It is no longer fair and equitable to continue such limitation in effect. The volume of production of soap has been reduced because of the shortage in fats and oils which has resulted in an increase in per unit indirect costs. Furthermore, such a limitation exists in no other adjustment criteria of the Rubber, Chemicals and Drugs Branch, and for this reason it is desirable in the interest of consistency and uniformity that it be eliminated. The accompanying amendment provides that indirect factory costs and administrative and selling expenses shall be determined on a current basis.

The shortage of fibre shipping containers resulted in the issuance of War Production Board Limitation Order 317—Fibre Shipping Containers, dated March 23, 1944 whose compliance necessitated shipment by many companies in a "New-Size Pack"—that is, a pack containing a number of units different than the number in any pack for which a maximum price has been established, and a procedure for pricing such new-size packs was established. Although War Production Board Limitation Order No. 317 has been rescinded, the shortage of fibre shipping containers continues and many companies are finding it difficult to obtain a sufficient supply of such containers. Provision is made by the accompanying amendment for such companies to increase the number of bars and cartons to the case and use the same method of computation of a new ceiling price for new size packs as is presently contained in the regulation, notwithstanding the revocation of the War Production Board Order. The retail price per bar or carton will, of course, remain unchanged.

In the opinion of the Administrator, this amendment is consistent with and effectuates the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and the Executive orders of the President.

Acting Administrator.

STATEMENT OF THE CONSIDERATIONS INVOLVED IN THE ISSUANCE OF AMENDMENT NO. 32 TO REVISED PRICE SCHEDULE NO. 35, AMENDMENT NO. 44 TO MAXIMUM PRICE REGULATION NO. 118

The accompanying amendment establishes uniform discounts of general applicability to all sales and deliveries of mill seconds, and short length run of mill fabrics, in lengths between one yard and 39.99 yards, covered by Revised Price

Schedule No. 35 and Maximum Price Regulation No. 118, except those fabrics for which specific seconds and shorts discounts contained in the various cotton textile regulations remain in force and effect.

Concurrently all provisions for a uniform discount for shorts and seconds of five percent regardless of length, are being revoked.

Customarily discounts for shorts vary inversely to fabric lengths. This is true because the waste and the labor costs incurred by converters and cutters increase as fabric lengths decrease. The discount table established by this amendment is a reasonable reflection of normal trade practices prior to price control.

It applies to fabrics for which maximum prices are established in Revised Price Schedule No. 35 and Maximum Price Regulation No. 118, and for which no discount provisions for shorts and seconds remain in effect. It applies further to fabrics one yard to 1.99 yards in length when discounts in these lengths are not spelled out in the appropriate regulations.

The provision establishing a maximum price of 20.37 cents for prices of duck less than 2 yards in length is revoked as being no longer adequate. Ducks in these lengths will be discounted or sold as pound goods the same as other fabrics.

Pound goods and remnants less than 10 yards in length which have normally been priced under section 2 (a) of the General Maximum Price Regulation are being granted a 25% increase in section 3b (x) of Supplementary Order No. 131 simultaneously with this action. Therefore mingled lots of such goods (priced under the formula outlined in § 1400.101 (b) of Maximum Price Regulation No. 118) and General Maximum Price Regulation pound goods may now use the price established in Supplementary Order No. 131, which includes a 25% increase over the General Maximum Price Regulation price.

Remnants one yard to 9.99 yards, when not mingled with General Maximum Price Regulation goods, are now priced at the current ceilings for full length, first quality fabrics, less the appropriate discount for shorts established in § 1400.101 (g). The only exception to this rule is that sellers who delivered fabrics between one yard and 9.99 yards in length as pound goods during the base period established in Maximum Price Regulation No. 118 may establish prices by using either the discount provisions established in § 1400.101 (g) or the pricing formula outlined in § 1400.101 (b) (1), the latter increased by 25%. This exception is made to prevent hardship to producers who normally sold remnants up to 10 yards in length as pound goods during the base period and who would now find it difficult to sort out pieces between 1 yard and 9.99 yards from substantial quantities of pound goods less than 1 yard in length.

PART 1407—RATIONING OF FOOD AND FOOD PRODUCTS

[3d Rev. RO 3, 1st Amdt. 24]

SUGAR

A rationale for this amendment has been issued simultaneously herewith and has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Third Revised Ration Order 3 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 19.8 is amended by changing the title thereof to read as follows: "For months before November, 1946 an industrial user could obtain a Provisional Allowance of sugar to make Bulk Sweetened Condensed Milk," and paragraph (f) is added to read as follows:

(f) On and after November 1, 1946, an industrial user may not obtain a provisional allowance of sugar under this section. On and after November 1, 1946 sugar for the purpose of manufacturing bulk sweetened condensed milk shall be obtained under the provisions of Article XXIV.

2. Article XXIV and section 24.1 are redesignated Article XXV and section 25.1 respectively, and a new Article XXIV is added to read as follows:

ARTICLE XXIV—BULK SWEETENED CONDENSED MILK

SEC. 24.1 Industrial users who manufacture bulk sweetened condensed milk must register. (a) Any industrial user who has used sugar in the manufacture of bulk sweetened condensed milk on or after January 1, 1943 and who needs sugar for such purpose must register with the Washington Office of the Office of Price Administration. Such industrial user must register on OPA Form R-1231 and give all of the information required by that form. (Any person who did not use sugar for such purpose at any time from January 1, 1943 through August 31, 1946 is not eligible to register.)

(b) Bulk sweetened condensed milk for the purposes of this article means sweetened condensed milk packed in containers over one gallon.

(c) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this order, such industrial users will be considered registered with the Washington Office of the Office of Price Administration for the purposes of this article.

SEC. 24.2 Base to be established for each user. (a) The Washington Office will establish a "base" for each month for each user based on the records of that office and the information submitted by the user. The "monthly base" established for each user who used sugar before January 1, 1945 will be the largest amount determined by making the following computations:

(1) The sum of his sugar use in each corresponding calendar month in 1943, 1944 and 1945 is divided by three;

(2) The sum of his sugar use in each corresponding calendar month in 1944 and 1945 is divided by two and the result is multiplied by 85 percent;

(3) The sum of his sugar use in each corresponding calendar month in 1943, 1944, 1945 and 1946 is divided by four and the result is multiplied by 80 percent;

(4) The sum of his sugar use in each corresponding calendar month in 1944, 1945 and 1946 is divided by three and the result is multiplied by 70 percent;

(5) The sum of his sugar use in each corresponding calendar month in 1945 and 1946 is divided by two and the result is multiplied by 60 percent.

(b) The "monthly base" for each user who had no established use prior to January 1, 1945 but who in 1945 used sugar for the manufacture of bulk sweetened condensed milk in any month prior to September, will be established by using whichever of the following computations is applicable;

(1) The sum of the sugar used by him in each corresponding calendar month in 1945 and 1946 is divided by two and the result is multiplied by 60 percent; or

(2) The base for each calendar month prior to the month in which he started his sugar use, if such month is prior to September, is computed by multiplying the amount of sugar used for the corresponding calendar month in 1946 by 50 percent; or

(3) The base for each calendar month, if such month is after August, is computed by multiplying the sugar use for the corresponding calendar month in 1945 by 70 percent;

(c) The "monthly base" for any user who used sugar for the manufacture of bulk sweetened condensed milk for the first time in September of 1945 will be established as follows:

(1) The base for each calendar month from September through December will be computed by multiplying the sugar use for the corresponding calendar month in 1945 by 70 percent;

(2) The base for each calendar month from January through August will be computed by multiplying the sugar use for the corresponding calendar month in 1946 by 50 percent.

(d) The "monthly base" for each user who had no established use prior to October 1, 1945, but who used sugar for the manufacture of bulk sweetened condensed milk between October 1, 1945, and August 31, 1946, will be computed as follows:

(1) Add the amount of sugar used by him in the calendar months from October 1, 1945, through August 31, 1946;

(2) Add the industry monthly production factors for all months from the first month during which he used sugar for the production of bulk sweetened condensed milk through August 1946;

(3) Divide (1) by (2);

(4) Multiply the result by the monthly production factors for the industry for each month; and

(5) The result is multiplied by 50 percent.

(The factors to be used in (2) and (4) above will be based upon an average representative monthly production pattern for the years 1943, 1944, and 1945 for the total industry.)

SEC. 24.3 Application for allowance.

(a) On and after October 1, 1946, an industrial user who has registered as required by section 24.1 and who needs sugar in the manufacture of bulk sweetened condensed milk must apply, during any month to the Washington Office for an allowance of sugar to be used in the second month following the month in which application is made. Application must be made on OPA Form R-360 and the applicant must give all of the information required by that Form. However, separate applications for sugar to be used in the months of November and December 1946, including a statement of his sugar use in the month of September 1946 must be filed with the Washington Office in October 1946.

SEC. 24.4 Issuance of allowance. (a) The Washington Office, on such conditions as it shall require, may issue a check for a monthly allowance of sugar in an amount which it considers necessary for the processing of milk which cannot be utilized by the applicant in nonsugar containing products and uses. In no event, however, shall any such allowance exceed the maximum allowance which will be determined by multiplying the "monthly base" established for each such user by the percentage for that use as stated in the supplement to this order.

(b) Any sugar or sugar ration evidences which are issued for use during a given month and which are unused at the end of that month shall be charged as "excess inventory" and deducted from the amount of any check subsequently determined to be due such user. (For example, any sugar or sugar ration evidences he has at the end of the month of October, 1946 (not including any sugar or sugar ration evidences which he has on hand for use during the month of November, 1946) will be deducted from the amount of the check he would otherwise be entitled to for January, 1947; the amount on hand at the end of the month of November, 1946 (not including the amount on hand for use for the month of December, 1946) will be deducted from the amount of the February, 1947 check.)

SEC. 24.5 Restriction on use. (a) Notwithstanding any other provisions of this order, an industrial user who obtains sugar for making bulk sweetened condensed milk may use such sugar only during the month for which it was authorized.

(b) Sugar obtained under this article may be used only for the purpose for which it was granted and at the rate permitted by the Washington Office.

SEC. 24.6 Records. (a) An industrial user who obtains sugar under this Article must keep records of his use of such sugar at his principal business office as long as this order remains in effect. (Such records shall consist of a copy of his registration and a copy of all of his applications filed on OPA Form R-360.)

SEC. 24.7 Population increase adjustments do not apply. (a) Population increase adjustments permitted under the provisions of section 2.3 of this order are not applicable to sugar obtained under this article.

SEC. 24.8 "Tolling" not applicable.

(a) The provisions of section 8.8 do not apply to any sugar or sugar ration evidences obtained under this Article, nor may any person, who obtains sugar under this article, be a tollee of sugar for the purpose of making bulk sweetened condensed milk.

This amendment shall become effective October 14, 1946.

NOTE: The reporting and record-keeping requirements of this amendment have been approved by the Bureau of Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 8th day of October 1946.

GEOFFREY BAKER,
Acting Administrator.

RATIONALE ACCOMPANYING AMENDMENT NO. 24 TO THIRD REVISED RATION ORDER 3

Present regulations. Under the present regulations, an industrial user may obtain a provisional allowance of sugar for the purpose of manufacturing bulk sweetened condensed milk in containers over one gallon. The amount of sugar which may be issued as a provisional allowance for this purpose is limited only by the amount of milk which the industrial user has on hand which cannot be utilized in non-sugar containing products and uses.

Proposed amendment. This amendment, by adding a new Article XXIV to Third Revised Ration Order 3, provides that any industrial user who has used sugar in the manufacture of bulk sweetened condensed milk on or after January 1, 1943 must register on OPA Form R-1231 with the Washington Office of the Office of Price Administration. However, any person who did not use sugar for such purpose at any time from January 1, 1943 through August 31, 1946 is not eligible to register nor to receive an allowance of sugar for the purpose of manufacturing bulk sweetened condensed milk. On and after October 1, 1946 an industrial user who has registered must apply on OPA Form R-360 to the Washington Office for an allowance of sugar to be used in the second month following the month in which the application is made. Separate applications for sugar to be used in the months of November and December, 1946, including a statement of sugar usage for the month of September, 1946 must be filed in October, 1946. The Washington Office will establish a "monthly base" for each user based on the records of that Office and the information submitted by the user. The Washington Office may thereafter issue a check for a monthly allowance of sugar in an amount which it deems necessary for the processing of milk which cannot be utilized in non-sugar containing products and uses. In no event, however, shall any such allowance exceed the maximum allowance which will be determined by multiplying the "monthly base" established for each user by the percentage for that use as stated in the supplement to this order. Any sugar or sugar ration evidences unused at the end of the calendar month preceding the date of application shall be charged as "excess inventory" and deducted from the amount of such issuance.

Reason for amendment. The quantity of sugar utilized in the manufacture of bulk sweetened condensed milk has increased steadily since the year 1942. During the war years, this increase was in part due to the greatly expanded milk production and the increase in the movement of whole milk from the farms. Despite a decline in the amount of milk produced since the close of the war, the manufacture of bulk sweetened condensed milk has continued to increase. In view of the unimproved outlook respecting sugar supplies, the Department of Agriculture and the Office of Price Administration agree that the present utilization of sugar for this purpose is excessive. Therefore, the issuance of sugar for this purpose must be reduced to a point which is more consistent with the need for sugar for purposes of milk preservation and which will allow for a more equitable distribution of existing supplies to all classes of users.

Thus, the present method of issuing sugar is being revised by relating allowances of sugar for the manufacture of bulk sweetened condensed milk to a representative rationing period. Through the establishment of maximum allowances of sugar, the annual use of sugar for the manufacture of this product will approximate the average use of sugar for such purpose during the years 1943, 1944 and 1945. These years have been selected as representative because they comprise a period during which the average output of milk by dairy farms approximates current levels of production. Since the provisional allowances of sugar granted during those years provided a means of preserving milk without substantial loss, the use of the 1943-1945 period for determining the amount of sugar allocated for the manufacture of bulk sweetened condensed milk will assure a maximum conservation of milk under the limitations which it is necessary to impose.

PART 1448—EATING AND DRINKING ESTABLISHMENTS

[Restaurant MPR 2, Amdt. 18]

FOOD AND DRINK SOLD FOR IMMEDIATE CONSUMPTION

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Restaurant Maximum Price Regulation No. 2 is amended in the following manner:

1. Section 1 is amended as follows:

- (a) The first paragraph of subparagraph (2) of section 1 (b) is deleted.
- (b) All of subparagraph (2) of section 1 (c) is deleted.
- (c) Paragraph (d) (1) of section 1 is amended to read as follows:

(1) Meals, food items and beverages are divided into classes (see paragraph (e) below for a description of these classes).

(d) Subparagraph 5 of section 1 (d) is amended to read as follows:

(5) As an exception to any of the provisions of this regulation limiting or establishing maximum prices for any food item, meal or beverage, the following provisions of this sub-paragraph will govern prices on and after October 10, 1946, of any establishment covered by this Regulation for any food item, meal or beverage consisting in whole or major part of a commodity to which no maximum price is applicable with respect to the sale of such commodity to such establishment. Any such commodity for which no maximum price is established is hereafter referred to as an uncontrolled commodity.

In determining what food item, meal or beverage consists in whole or major part of an uncontrolled commodity, the general rules set forth below should be observed:

(i) In the case of meals, either table d'hôte or à la carte, the question is to be determined by the category in which the entree (main dish) of the meal falls. For example, whether the entree is fish, poultry or eggs, etc.

(ii) Breakfast items, such as ham and eggs, and similar combinations: and combination sandwiches, such as ham and cheese, wherein one of the major ingredients is an uncontrolled commodity, shall be deemed to consist in major part of an uncontrolled commodity.

(iii) Vegetable plate dinners, and combination fruit and/or vegetable dishes or salads shall be deemed to consist in major part of an uncontrolled commodity.

You shall on or before October 21, 1946, re-calculate your maximum prices for any food item, meal or beverage which consists in whole or major part of an uncontrolled commodity. The maximum prices for such food items, meals or beverages shall be computed by the addition of a customary margin to the acquisition cost of such item. Customary margin, as used in the subparagraph, shall be determined on the basis of the class, or on an over-all basis, depending upon the method customarily used by the establishment, and is the difference between the food acquisition costs and sales. To determine the margin, divide your sales by your food acquisition costs. In computing this customary margin, you must take the results of your operations for the 1943 fiscal year, or, if your figures for that year are not available, you shall use the nearest consecutive six-month period subsequent to the 1943 fiscal year for which figures are available, ending not later than June 30, 1946. The margin developed, when multiplied by your food acquisition cost as determined from your most recent invoice from your customary type of supplier, and for the quantity usually purchased, establishes your maximum ceiling price. Acquisition cost as used in this subparagraph shall be deemed to refer to the raw food cost.

You must, prior to November 5, 1946, file duplicate signed statements of your margin, or margins, with your Local Price Control Board. The statement must be in the following manner:

Name of establishment.....
Address of establishment.....
Your customary margin or margins.....
Period from which chosen.....
Signature of Owner or Manager.....

You must have available on your premises for the inspection of duly authorized Office of Price Administration employees the following records to substantiate the prices which you charge under this provision:

(i) Records to substantiate the margin or margins.

(ii) A copy of statement filed with Local Price Control Board.

(iii) (a) The price of the meal, food item or beverage, (b) the food acquisition cost, (c) the margin, (d) date when first served.

You must maintain the maximum prices established under this subparagraph until the 21st day of each month at which time, if the costs for the food items, meals or beverages so priced have changed, you shall recalculate your maximum prices in accordance with the provisions of this subparagraph.

However, nothing in this subparagraph shall be deemed to require the establishment to serve or offer to serve any food item, meal or beverage at a price less than its established maximum prices of June 12, 1946.

(e) Add a new subparagraph (6) to section 1 (d) to read as follows:

(6) You shall recalculate your maximum prices for new food items, meals, or beverages by using the formula as contained in section 1 (d) (5) for pricing uncontrolled commodities.

A new food item, meal or beverage, as used in this subparagraph shall be deemed to mean any food item, meal or beverage which you did not serve, or offer to serve and for the service of which no maximum prices were established between March 7, 1943, and June 12, 1946.

(f) Add a new subparagraph (7) to section 1 (d) to read as follows:

(7) You may on and after October 10, 1946, recalculate your prices for all food items and/or meals which consist in whole or major part of a meat item (as listed in groups 9, 10, 11, 12, 13, 14, 15, 30, of Appendix A of this regulation), as well as for all meat sandwiches which fall in group 29 of Appendix A.

The maximum prices for such food items or meals shall be determined by the addition of a 15 percent increase over the June 30, 1946, prices established under this regulation.

(g) Add a new subparagraph (8) to section 1 (d) to read as follows:

(8) Any price change effected by subparagraphs (5), (6) and (7) of this section, which results in odd penny pricing, may be rounded to the nearest nickel, except that rounding to the next higher nickel may be made only if the maximum price for the food item, meal or beverage on June 12, 1946, was 20¢ or more. If the food item, meal or beverage had a maximum price under 20¢ on June 12, 1946, you may round any fractions of cents to the next higher cent.

This amendment shall become effective October 10, 1946.

Note: The reporting and record-keeping provisions of this amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget, in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 8th day of October 1946.

PAUL A. PORTER,
Administrator.

STATEMENT OF THE CONSIDERATIONS INVOLVED IN THE ISSUANCE OF AMENDMENT 18 TO RESTAURANT MAXIMUM PRICE REGULATION NO. 2

One of the changes made by the accompanying amendment is a clarification of the method to be used by the establishment in figuring its ceiling prices on uncontrolled items. Under the regulation, prior to this amendment, margin was defined as the "percentage mark-up over current raw food costs that is currently being realized in your establishment. Many questions were raised as to the meaning of mark-up currently being realized, and furthermore the use of a mark-up currently being realized meant the possibility of a fluctuating mark-up. This amendment clearly defines the method to be used in determining what the margin or margins shall be, as well as insure the use of a constant margin. It also specifically requires the filing of the margin or margins. Inasmuch as the raw food costs of the uncontrolled items may fluctuate in prices quite frequently, it was deemed advisable by both the industry and the Office of Price Administration to require that maximum prices on food items, meals or beverages should be altered on a monthly basis. Therefore, on the 21st day of each month, if the acquisition cost has changed, the maximum prices for such items shall be changed accordingly.

In determining what the margin is, the establishment shall use its operation figures for the 1943 fiscal year. However, if such figures are not available it shall use the consecutive six-month period nearest to the 1943 fiscal year for which it has available records, ending not later than June 30, 1946.

The amendment also provides for an increase in the price of certain meat dishes and meat sandwiches. The Administrator has received complaints from industry that as a result of mark-up control on uncontrolled items and the maintenance of the June 30, 1946, level on meat dishes the relationship that normally existed between the prices of items such as fish and poultry on the one hand and meat on the other hand has been badly distorted. A study of the situation has indicated that the application of a mark-up to the cost of uncontrolled items has resulted in placing the ceiling prices on those items at levels, in many instances, substantially higher than the level of prices for meat dishes or has completely eliminated the normal range of differential that existed between the prices of those items. The accompanying amendment will have the effect of lessening and in many cases eliminating any distortion of the relationship that has normally existed. The Administrator has also found that a substantial group in the restaurant industry primarily sells meat dishes. Price increases on sale of meat to restaurants have operated in such a way as to have a much more serious effect on the financial position of such operators than on operators of establishments who deal in varied lines. The granting of an increase in the prices of meat dishes should provide such operators with an increase sufficiently large to allow their operations to remain on a profitable basis and should also eliminate the possibility of a substantial number of individual price adjustments that the Office might be called upon to make.

When there has been any price change in the maximum prices of food items, meals or beverages pursuant to the provision of this amendment, and such change results in odd penny pricing, the establishment may price to the nearest nickel for items of 20 cents or more.

However, if the June 30, 1946, prices for such items had a ceiling price under twenty cents, the establishment in recalculating its prices may round the fractional cent increases to the next nearest cent.

The purpose of this provision is to permit those many establishments who handle lower-priced items almost exclusively to take full advantage of the increases offered in this amendment.

This amendment also eliminates the highest price line concept from the regulation.

[Rev. SR 11, Amdt. 101]

FRESH FRUITS AND VEGETABLES

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Revised Supplementary Regulation 11 is amended in the following respect: A new subparagraph (14) is added to § 1499.46 (f) to read as follows:

(14) Fees and charges by commission agents and brokers for the sale of those fresh fruits or vegetables exempt or suspended from price control. Provided: That this suspension shall be effective only so long as the sale of the fruit or vegetable involved remains exempt or suspended from price control.

This amendment shall become effective October 8, 1946.

Issued this 8th day of October 1946.

ROBERT A. NIXON,
Acting Administrator.

Approved: September 27, 1946.

CHARLES F. BRANNAN,
Acting Secretary of Agriculture.

STATEMENT OF THE CONSIDERATIONS INVOLVED IN THE ISSUANCE OF AMENDMENT 101 TO RSR 11 TO THE GMPR

The accompanying amendment suspends from price control the fees and charges made by commission agents and brokers for the sale of fresh fruits and vegetables: Provided, That the commodity involved is exempt or suspended from price control. Upon the resumption of price control over any fruit or vegetable item, the provisions of RMPR 165 are automatically restored to the charges made for brokers' or agents' services for the sale of the commodity.

The services affected by this suspension are those offered by agents and brokers who sell fresh fruits and vegetables on behalf of the owner. These agents are an important segment of the over-all distribution system, and the considerations involved in the exemption and suspension of certain fruits and vegetables from price control apply with equal force to the suspension from price control of the services performed by those agents in selling such commodities.

[Rev. SR 11, Amdt. 102]

ALLIGATOR AND OTHER REPTILE LEATHERS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Section 1499.46 of Revised Supplementary Regulation No. 11 is amended in the following respect:

A new subparagraph (15) is added to paragraph (f) to read as follows:

(15) Services of "cut, make, trim, and finish" of alligator and other reptile leathers in connection with the production of shoes and other articles, except where the outer covering is constructed in whole or in part by sewing together, with a zigzag or other stitch, pieces cut from scrap of alligator or other reptile leather if the average size of the pieces of such leather in the finished articles is less than four square inches.

This amendment shall become effective October 8, 1946.

Issued this 8th day of October 1946.

GEOFFREY BAKER,
Acting Administrator.

STATEMENT OF THE CONSIDERATIONS INVOLVED IN THE ISSUANCE OF AMENDMENT 102 TO RSR 11 TO THE GMPR

The accompanying amendment suspends from price control the service of custom cutting, making, trimming and finishing of alligator and other reptile leathers in connection with the production of shoes and other articles, except where the outer covering is constructed in whole or in part by sewing together, with a zigzag or other stitch, pieces cut from scrap of alligator or other reptile leather if the average size of the pieces of such leather in the finished articles is less than four square inches.

Substantially the same reasons apply to the suspension from price control of these services as applied to the suspension from price control of the sale of the affected leathers, under amendment 49 to S. O. 126. In the judgment of the Administrator, the suspension herein is consistent with the avoidance of a cumulative and dangerous unstabilizing effect.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES
[SR 14E, Amdt. 58]

MODIFICATION OF MAXIMUM PRICES ESTABLISHED BY GENERAL MAXIMUM PRICE REGULATION FOR CERTAIN TEXTILES, LEATHER AND APPAREL

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Supplementary Regulation 14E is amended in the following respect:

1. OPA Form No. 6064-2670 set forth in paragraph (g) of section 3.13 is amended by deleting therefrom the second paragraph under the heading, "Instructions for parts A and B", and substituting therefor the following:

The costs for the new shoe and the base shoe to be reported in parts A and B of this form should be the current cost of each item. Current direct cost means the sum of the direct labor and material costs contained in each item as defined in this paragraph. Material cost shall be calculated on the basis of average replacement cost from the manufacturer's principal source of supply after trade and quantity discounts but before term discounts, but, in no event, shall such cost exceed the maximum price in effect on September 30, 1946, under the applicable maximum price regulation for the type and grade of material actually used. Transportation, storage, warehousing or insurance charges shall not be included in the cost of the material. In calculating direct labor cost no amount may be included which reflects a wage increase which has not been approved by the appropriate wage or salary stabilization agency on or before August 18, 1945, or which was duly approved thereafter under the limited provisions of the Wage and Salary Regulation as issued December 5, 1945.

This amendment shall become effective October 14, 1946.

NOTE: The reporting and record-keeping provisions of this amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 8th day of October 1946.

GEOFFREY BAKER,
Acting Administrator.

STATEMENT OF CONSIDERATIONS INVOLVED IN THE ISSUANCE OF AMENDMENT 58 TO SR 14E

The accompanying amendment changes the instructions on OPA Form No. 6064-2670 set forth in paragraph (g) of section 3.13 as to the current direct material and labor costs to be used by the manufacturer in submitting an application for approval of a maximum price under section 3.13 (d) of SR 14E.

Amendment 24 to Supplementary Regulation 14E was issued in a period when material costs were comparatively stable, and they were expected to remain so. Since then there have been many substantial increases in both labor and certain material cost due in part to the return of competing world markets in foreign sources of supply. The reporting provisions of OPA Form No. 6064-2670 primarily serve to provide field offices with information about a new item of footwear which will permit the determination of a maximum price in line with the general level of maximum prices otherwise established under the regulation for footwear of the same type. One of the criteria for such a determination is the comparison of material and direct labor costs of the new item with other items of the same type which have established maximum prices. In a period of fluctuating costs, it will facilitate the processing of applications by the field offices if such cost information is tied to a specific time. The changes accomplished by this amendment do not, however, represent a change in the pricing method for such footwear.

In addition, the change in reporting provisions will prevent new increases in cost of material after September 30 from being reflected in the maximum price for new items of footwear in the case of individual sellers. Where increases in costs of material or direct labor warrant an increase in the maximum price for footwear under existing standards, such action will be taken on an industry-wide basis.

September 30, 1946 was chosen as the base date for material costs, because of the relative stability in material prices just prior to this date. Except for labor cost increases approved under the very limited provisions of the Supplementary Wage and Salary Regulation as issued December 5, 1945, the August 18, 1945 date is retained for calculating direct labor cost. Actually the provision is clarified by referring to the above wage regulation "as issued December 5, 1945", thus removing any doubt as to whether subsequent wage regulations affect the wage rates which may be included.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES
[MPR 580, Amdt. 17]

RETAIL CEILING PRICES FOR CERTAIN APPAREL AND HOUSE FURNISHINGS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Maximum Price Regulation 580 is amended as follows:

1. Section 13 is amended by adding thereto a new paragraph (d) to read as follows:

(e) On and after October 20, 1946, notwithstanding the provisions of any order issued pursuant to this section, the retail ceiling price of any article covered by an order issued under this section shall not exceed the price at which that article was required to be ticketed by the supplier at the date of shipment by the supplier.

This amendment shall become effective October 14, 1946.

Issued this 8th day of October 1946.

GEOFFREY BAKER,
Acting Administrator.

STATEMENT OF THE CONSIDERATIONS INVOLVED IN THE ISSUANCE OF AMENDMENT 17 TO MAXIMUM PRICE REGULATION 580

The accompanying amendment changes a formerly permitted practice under which retailers could revise prices and change preticketed markings on articles covered by orders under section 13 of Maximum Price Regulation 580 whenever those orders were amended to establish higher retail prices. The amendment provides that articles may be sold at retail for no more than the ceiling price established by the section 13 order at the time the merchandise was shipped to the retailer.

The effect of this amendment is to allow the prices placed on articles by suppliers to remain undisturbed, thus preserving one of the chief benefits of the preticketing system.

Repeated manufacturers' increases in prices of article covered by section 13 of Maximum Price Regulation 580 heretofore provided retailers with unwarranted increases of prices of articles in stock purchased by them prior to the supplier price increases on which the new higher retail prices were based. A retailer when pricing a similar article, which does not have an advertised brand name, and which is not priced under section 13 of Maximum Price Regulation 580, has always been required to price through his Maximum Price Regulation 580 chart on the basis of the actual net cost and not on the basis of a subsequently increased supplier price not actually paid by him. In this respect, therefore, the pricing provision under section 13 now becomes consistent with that of the regulation itself.

PART 1499—COMMODITIES AND SERVICES
[MPR 580, Amdt. 18]

RETAIL CEILING PRICES FOR CERTAIN APPAREL AND HOUSE FURNISHINGS

A statement of the considerations involved in the issuance of this amendment issued simultaneously herewith has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Maximum Price Regulation 580 is amended in the following respects:

1. Section 7 (d) is amended by substituting the phrase "column 2" for the phrase "column 3."

2. Section 10 (b) is amended to read as follows:

(b) Markups in excess of Appendix F—(1) Eligibility. You may apply to your OPA District Office for authorization to use markups in excess of those set forth in Appendix F, if:

(i) You already own one or more established stores selling MPR 580 merchandise with markups higher than those set forth in Appendix F; or

(ii) You already own one or more establishments selling goods not covered by MPR 580 at markups, which for such goods represent markups higher than average; or

(iii) You (if you are an individually owned establishment), or any of the principal stockholders actually engaged in the business, or any of the managing officers had previous experience in selling MPR 580 merchandise or related commodities as an owner, officer, principal, or employee in an executive or managerial capacity in a business handling MPR 580 merchandise at markups higher than those listed in Appendix F (or if handling related commodities at markups which for such goods represent markups higher than average) and have not operated at or below the markups set forth in Appendix F or the average markups since the base period; or

(iv) Prior to February 14, 1946 your properly determined prices resulted in markups in excess of those in Appendix F.

(2) Filing and contents of application. Applications must be made by filing with your OPA District Office two copies of a separate letter signed by you or a duly authorized agent. Such letter must set forth any additional information, which, together with the information given in your report filed under paragraph (a), establishes that you meet at least one of the conditions set forth in paragraph (b) (1).

(3) Authorization of higher markups than those listed in Appendix F. (i) Upon application made pursuant to subparagraph (1), your OPA District Office may, by order, authorize you to use markups higher than those listed in Appendix F. Subject to subdivision (ii), such markups will be in line with those of sellers most nearly like you in your OPA district but not higher than your own past experience and in no case (except in an OPA district or resort center where the average of markups is unusually high) will markups be authorized which exceed the highest markups at or below which those sellers comprising three-fourths of the sellers covered by the regulation operate.

(ii) If, prior to February 14, 1946, you had properly established ceiling prices which resulted in markups in excess of those in Appendix F, your OPA District Office may authorize you to use markups, in line with the markups represented by those ceiling prices.

3. Appendix C, subsection (3) is amended to read as follows:

(3) Floor coverings and wall coverings. All hard surface wall coverings and all floor coverings are included in these categories, except knotted oriental rugs (which are exempt from price control) and certain hand-hooked cotton rugs (which have dollar and cents ceilings).

4. Category 804 in Appendix C in Maximum Price Regulation 580 is amended to read as follows:

Category 804—Hard surface wall and floor covering by the yard.

This category includes all kinds of hard surface (linoleum, felt base, etc.) wall covering and floor covering (including rug borders) which is offered on the basis of the price per yard.

This amendment shall become effective October 14, 1946.

Note: All the reporting requirements of this amendment have been approved by the Bureau of the Budget in accordance with the Federal Reports Act of 1942.

Issued this 8th day of October 1946.

GEOFFREY BAKER,
Acting Administrator.

STATEMENT OF THE CONSIDERATIONS INVOLVED IN THE ISSUANCE OF AMENDMENT 18 TO MAXIMUM PRICE REGULATION 580

The principal purpose of the accompanying amendment is to set out the standards used by the Office of Price Administration in processing applications for higher than Appendix F markups. Prior to this amendment, the regulation set forth only the grounds of eligibility for higher markups, not indicating, however, what standards were used in determining markups for eligible sellers. The standards now incorporated into the regulation vary somewhat from those in actual prior use.

Under the amended provisions eligibility for markups higher than those set forth in Appendix F remains virtually the same as heretofore, resting chiefly upon the seller's experience at higher markups. Provision is now made, however, to permit sellers who, prior to Maximum Price Regulation 580, had ceiling prices for articles reflecting markups in excess of those specified in Appendix F, but who did not handle any articles in the category on the base date and were thus unable to construct the appropriate chart category, and were also unable to price these articles under sections other than section 10 of the Regulation, to apply for orders for markups consistent with those they would have had under their former ceiling prices. Thus the fortuitous circumstances of the absence of sales on the base date of articles formerly a regular part of the retailer's line and his technical inability to secure in-line markups under the provisions of section 7 will no longer prevent the seller from handling those articles at markups which are in line with those he would otherwise have had under the regulation.

Under the accompanying amendment the standards for processing new seller applications stipulate that markups which are higher than those listed in Appendix F, where granted, will be in line with those of sellers most nearly like the applicant but not higher than the seller's own past experience and in no case (except in an OPA District or in resort centers where the average of markups is unusually high) will markups be authorized which exceed the highest markups at or below which those sellers comprising three-fourths of the sellers covered by the regulation operate.

While previous experience is an important factor in determining the new seller's markups, the in-lining of markups is subject to three considerations:

First, such markups must be in-lined with those of sellers in his district most closely resembling the type of store the applicant proposes to operate. This functional approach is used rather than nearest competitor since the type of operation is more easily ascertainable and economically justifiable. A former standard under which credit installment sellers had been mandatorily in-lined with cash sellers will no longer be employed,—the new rule being that such sellers and other sellers as well will (subject to the limitations explained above) receive markups which are in line with those of sellers most nearly like them, whether or not these other sellers happen to be cash or credit sellers.

Second, the seller's own previous experience will not be exceeded. This permits a seller special consideration for his own past experience but does not invite retailers to upgrade their operations by closing one operation and opening a new one, while sellers who continue in business cannot change their status.

Third, since an unusually large number of sellers is found to seek very high markups, absence of the limitation, described above, would raise the level of prices. Moreover, in limiting the highest markups to the average markup at or below which the three-fourths of the sellers covered by the Regulation are now operating the Administrator makes the finding that markups above these limits are rarely warranted. Reduced selling expenses, reduction in advertising costs, reduction in bad debts, and a diminution of administration and overhead costs resulting from tremendously increased sales, have eliminated the need for the high operating margins in effect for the upper fringe 25% of the sellers. As previously mentioned, however, in certain OPA districts or resort centers where the average markups are found to be higher than the upper limits, an eligible applicant may be granted markups up to the local average.

Chapter XXIII—War Assets Administration

[Reg. 14, Order 6]

PART 8314—DISPOSAL TO NONPROFIT INSTITUTIONS AND DISCOUNTS FOR EDUCATIONAL OR PUBLIC-HEALTH INSTITUTIONS OR INSTRUMENTALITIES

DISPOSAL OF INSTRUCTIONAL EQUIPMENT TO EDUCATIONAL INSTITUTIONS AND INSTRUMENTALITIES

The Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion has advised the War Assets Administrator that the Veterans Educational Program is being seriously handicapped because of the inability of educational institutions and instrumentalities to obtain instructional equipment, including classroom and laboratory furniture and equipment and wood-working and metal working machinery and equipment. An interagency committee representing the War Assets Administration, the Office of Education, the Federal Works Agency, and the Retraining ing and Reemployment Administration has reported a list of the items of instructional equipment which are critically needed by such institutions and instrumentalities, copy of which is appended as Exhibit A.

The Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion has further reported to the War Assets Administrator that due to the extraordinary expansion of veteran-student enrollment and due to the accelerated obsolescence of existing equipment the present facilities of such institutions and instrumentalities are inadequate to carry out the Veterans Educational Program and such institutions and instrumentalities are unable to purchase the equipment needed under their present budgets. Recognizing that the temporary expansion of facilities needed to carry out the Veterans Educational Program cannot justify the increase of educational budgets to cover such instructional equipment, the Office of War Mobilization and Reconversion has recommended that such equipment should be made available out of surplus property at a nominal price.

In view of these considerations the War Assets Administrator finds that the benefit that will accrue to the United States from the use of such instructional equipment by educational institutions and instrumentalities in the Veterans Educational Program justifies disposal to them at a nominal price, approximately sufficient to cover the cost of disposition, and that such a nominal price should be five (5) per cent of the fair value of the property as established by the disposal agency.

Pursuant to the authority of the Surplus Property Act of 1944, as amended (58 Stat. 765, as amended; 50 U. S. C. App. Sup. 1611); Public Law 181, 79th Congress (59 Stat. 533; 50 U. S. C. App. Sup. 1614a, 1614b); and Executive Order 9689 (11 F.R. 1265) it is hereby ordered, That:

§ 8314.56 Disposal of instructional equipment to educational institutions and instrumentalities. (a) Notwithstanding the provisions of § 8314.9, disposal agencies after making such provision as may be necessary for offerings to priority claimants in accordance with the provisions of Part 8302² are hereby authorized to sell the instructional equipment listed on Exhibit A to educational institutions and instrumentalities as defined in § 8314.1, whose orders have been approved by the Federal Works Agency, at prices equivalent to five (5) per cent of the fair value thereof, f. o. b. location.

(b) The Federal Works Agency shall establish criteria by which to determine the legitimate needs of educational institutions and instrumentalities which apply for instructional equipment and procedures under which orders by or for such institutions and instrumentalities will be submitted to the disposal agencies.

(c) The Federal Works Agency shall not approve any order for instructional equipment from an educational institution or instrumentality which is not offering courses of training under Title II of the Servicemen's Readjustment Act of 1944,³ as amended.

This order shall become effective October 4, 1946.

ROBERT M. LITTLEJOHN,
Administrator.

LEARNER EMPLOYMENT CERTIFICATES ISSUANCE TO VARIOUS INDUSTRIES

Notice of Issuance of Special Certificates for the employment of learners under the Fair Labor Standards Act of 1938.

Notice is hereby given that special certificates authorizing the employment of learners at hourly wage rates lower than the minimum wage rate applicable under section 6 of the act have been issued to the firms hereinafter mentioned under section 14 of the act, Part 522 of the regulations issued thereunder (August 16, 1940, 5 F. R. 2862, and as amended June 25, 1942, 7 F. R. 4725), and the determinations, orders and/or regulations hereinafter mentioned. The names and addresses of the firms to which certificates were issued, industry, products, number of learners, learner occupations, wage rates, learning periods, and effective and expiration dates of the certificates are as follows:

The special learner certificates issued to the following companies under the above regulations provide for the employment of learners in the occupation of commercial switchboard operator for a period not in excess of 480 hours at not less than 30 cents per hour for the first 320 hours and 35 cents per hour for the remaining 160 hours of the learning period. The number of learners authorized to be employed depends on the number of operators in the exchange, i. e., one learner if the exchange employs 8 operators or less, two learners if the exchange employs from 9 to 18 operators, etc. See Regulations, Part 522, § 522.083.

International Telephone Company, International Falls, Minnesota; effective September 30, 1946, expiring September 29, 1947.

The employment of learners under these certificates is limited to the terms and conditions therein contained and is subject to the provisions of the applicable determinations, orders and/or regulations cited above. These certificates have been issued upon the employers' representations that experienced workers for the learner occupations are not available for employment and that they are actually in need of learners at subminimum rates in order to prevent curtailment of opportunities for employment. The certificates may be cancelled in the manner provided in the regulations and as indicated in the certificates. Any person aggrieved by the issuance of any of these certificates may seek a review or reconsideration thereof within fifteen days after publication of this notice in the FEDERAL REGISTER pursuant to the provisions of Regulations, Part 522.

ELECTRIC BOND AND SHARE CO. ET AL.

AUTHORIZATION OF SUPPLEMENTAL APPLICATION

At a regular session of the Securities and Exchange Commission, held at its office in the City of Philadelphia, Pa., on the 2d day of October A. D. 1946.

In the matters of Electric Bond and Share Company, File No. 54-127; Electric Bond and Share Company and its Subsidiary Companies, Respondents, File No. 59-3; Electric Bond and Share Company, American Power & Light Company, National Power & Light Company, Electric Power & Light Corporation, et al., Respondents, File No. 59-12.

Electric Bond and Share Company (Bond and Share), a registered holding company under the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935, having filed with the Commission on July 25, 1945 a series of plans designated Plan I, Plan II, and Plan III, having for their purpose, among other things, the retirement of Bond and Share's outstanding preferred stocks and the disposition of certain portfolio securities; the Commission having by order dated August 3, 1945 consolidated said proceedings with respect to these plans with proceedings previously instituted by the Commission pursuant to section 11 (b) (1) and section 11 (b) (2) of the act directed to Bond and Share and its subsidiary companies; the Commission, after appropriate notice and public hearings, having approved Plan I and a plan designated Plan II-A filed in substitution for Plan II by orders dated October 10, 1945 and September 6, 1946, respectively, and said Plan I providing for a pro-rata distribution of $30 per share as a capital distribution with respect to Bond and Share's outstanding preferred stocks having been consummated pursuant to an Order of the United States District Court for the Southern District of New York dated November 5, 1945, and the Commission having made application on September 6, 1946 to said Court for enforcement of Plan II-A, which provides, among other things, for the retirement of Bond and Share's preferred stocks and the disposition of certain designated portfolio securities; and the Commission having heretofore issued various orders in the above-mentioned proceedings instituted pursuant to section 11 (b) (2) of the act directing that the existence of the subholding companies, National Power & Light Company, American Power & Light Company, and Electric Power & Light Corporation be terminated and that said companies be dissolved; and

Bond and Share having heretofore filed with the Commission a supplemental application in these consolidated proceedings requesting that the Commission enter an order authorizing the transfer and delivery to Bond and Share of the shares of American & Foreign Power Company Inc. (Foreign Power), American Gas & Electric Company (American Gas), American Power & Light Company (American), and Electric Power & Light Corporation (Electric), all as hereinafter enumerated, beneficially owned by Bond and Share but now held in the names of the hereinafter designated nominees, and authorizing the issuance of new certificates in the name of Bond and Share, for such securities, and that said order conform to the requirements of Section 1808 (f) of the Internal Revenue Code as amended:

The Commission deeming the existence in such nominees of legal title to the above securities an unnecessary complexity in the Bond and Share holding company system and the proposed transfers eliminating such nominee holdings as necessary or appropriate to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of the act and deeming it appropriate to grant the foregoing request of Bond and Share:

It is ordered, That the transactions specified and itemized below, all as proposed in said supplemental application, are authorized as steps which are necessary or appropriate to effectuate the provisions of section 11 (b) of the Public Utility Holding Company Act of 1935:

The transfer and delivery to Bond and Share by the individual nominees hereinafter named of the securities now held in the names of such nominees and the issuance of new certificates for such securities to and in the name of Bond and Share, the beneficial owner thereof:

TO ORDER 320 UNDER REVISED SUPPLEMENTARY ORDER 119

Order No. 320 under Revised Supplementary Order No. 119 authorized the Overhead Door Corporation to increase its October 1, 1941 prices on its line of metal overhead doors by 15.3 percent. This adjustment did not include a recent wage increase the approval of which was pending before the National Wage Stabilization Board.

The Overhead Door Corporation has subsequently been granted this approval and has submitted the required data to this Office with a request for further adjustment. The total adjustment now amounts to 19.5 percent.

The accompanying amendment to Order No. 320 grants this request.

OPINION ACCOMPANYING ORDER 851
UNDER SECTION 9 OF MAXIMUM REGULATION 591

The accompanying Order No. 851 under section 9 of Maximum Price Regulation No. 591 establishes maximum prices for sales at all levels of distribution for a fireplace heater and circulator manufactured by Price Fireplace Heater and Tank Corporation of Buffalo, New York.

This particular commodity was only recently introduced into the market by the manufacturer. Maximum prices for the items could not be established under sections 7 or 8 of Maximum Price Regulation No. 591, because this company had never manufactured comparable commodities. Consequently, maximum prices must be approved pursuant to the provisions of section 9 of Maximum Price Regulation No. 591.

In its application the company submitted its proposed prices for the commodity covered by this order. An analysis of the information submitted indicated that the prices requested are in line with the prices of competitive manufacturers for comparable commodities and, therefore, are in line with the level of prices established under Maximum Price Regulation No. 591.

In order to avoid any confusion on the part of resellers as to their maximum prices and for the purposes of protecting consumers, the accompanying order establishes dollars-and-cents prices for all levels of distribution. Maximum prices established for resellers reflect the usual margins of such resellers on sales of comparable products.

The commodity manufactured by this company will be distributed by many resellers who may or may not have access to copies of the accompanying order. Therefore, in order to avoid confusion on the part of resellers who do not have access to this order, the order provides that the manufacturer shall notify each of its purchasers of its maximum prices as well as purchasers' maximum resale prices.

OPINION ACCOMPANYING ORDER 852 UNDER SECTION 9 OF MAXIMUM PRICE REGULATION 591

The accompanying Order No. 852 under section 9 of Maximum Price Regulation No. 591 establishes maximum prices for sales at all levels of distribution for conversion gas burners manufactured by The Adams Manufacturing Company of Cleveland, Ohio.

These particular commodities were only recently introduced into the market by the manufacturer. Consequently, maximum prices must be approved pursuant to the provisions of section 9 of Maximum Price Regulation No. 591.

An analysis of the information submitted indicated that the prices requested are in line with the prices of competitive manufacturers for comparable commodities and, therefore, are in line with the level of prices established under Maximum Price Regulation No. 591.

In order to avoid any confusion on the part of resellers as to their maximum prices and for the purposes of protecting consumers, the accompanying order establishes dollars-and-cents prices for all levels of distribution. Maximum prices established for resellers reflect the usual margins of such resellers on sales of comparable products.

The commodities manufactured by this company will be distributed by many resellers who may or may not have access to copies of the accompanying order. Therefore, in order to avoid confusion on the part of resellers who do not have access to this order, the order provides that the manufacturer attach to each conversion burner a tag on which will be printed the article's maximum consumer price. In addition, each seller, except on sales to consumers, is required to notify each of his purchasers of his maximum prices as well as purchasers' maximum prices on resale.

This order may be revoked or amended by the Price Administrator at any time.

This order shall become effective October 9, 1946.

Issued this 8th day of October 1946.

PAUL A. PORTER,

OPINION ACCOMPANYING ORDER 853 UNDER SECTION 13 OF MAXIMUM PRICE REGULATION 591

The accompanying order, establishing maximum prices for resale by Hibbard, Spencer, Bartlett & Company, of Chicago, Illinois and its dealers of certain freezing cabinets is issued in connection with order 104 under Maximum Price Regulation 591 which establishes maximum prices for the sale of these new freezers by the manufacturer, Manitowoc Ship Building Company, and other sellers.

Hibbard, Spencer, Bartlett & Company distributes a wide range of commodities through its own Hibbard, Spencer, Bartlett Dealer organization. At the request of the company, the accompanying order permits it to distribute the subject Model H 12 freezer in the same pattern, without increasing the maximum price to the consumer. The markups enjoyed by the company and its classes of dealers are in line with the markups applied by them for their sales of comparable commodities, and conform to the request of the company, and to its customary practices.

OPINION ACCOMPANYING AMENDMENT 2 TO ADOPTING ORDER 30 UNDER BASIC ORDER 1 AS AMENDED, UNDER GENERAL ORDER 68 AS AMENDED

On February 11, 1946, Adopting Order No. 30, under Basic Order No. 1, was issued by this office, effective February 16, 1946. This order stated maximum prices for certain hard mason materials in the area covered by said order, more fully described in said order. This order was amended by Amendment No. 1, issued and effective August 26, 1946, which amendment among other things, struck out Schedule A annexed to the original order, and inserting in place thereof, Revised Schedule A, which Revised Schedule adjusted the prices fixed by the order, so as to reflect manufacturers' increases which have been granted up to June 30, 1946, in accordance with section 2 (t) of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 as amended.

It now appears that additional manufacturers' increases have been granted on some of the items covered by Revised Schedule A since June 30, 1946, and the accompanying amendment accordingly substitutes Second Revised Schedule A for Revised Schedule A. This Second Revised Schedule A gives effect to manufacturers' increases in accordance with the provisions of section 2 (t) of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 as amended. This amendment does not supersede Supplementary Order 179 relating to increased freight on certain commodities.

At the time of issuance of these orders rights of retail butchers were dependent upon a finding by the Regional Administrator of a deficiency of particular kinds of beef, and such a finding was embodied in the orders.

Maximum Price Regulation No. 355 has now been modified so that a finding by the Regional Administrator as to a deficiency in supplies is no longer material. Consequently, it is appropriate to revoke the above named orders, and this has been done by the accompanying order of revocation.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and pursuant to Revised General Order 65, it is ordered:

wood flooring out of distribution yard stock covered by this order or by any appendix which may now or hereafter be incorporated into and made a part of this order at prices higher than the maximum prices set forth in this order and in such appendices.

(b) Transactions covered by this order. This order covers all retail type sales by lumber distribution yards located in any area specified in any of the appendices attached hereto out of distribution yard stock of any of the specified lumber or lumber products listed in the appendix applicable to that particular area and of any lumber or lumber products which may be developed from such items by using the additions set forth in section 3 below: Provided, That where a distribution yard has any connection, either financially or through family relationships, with any lumber producing operation, and such distribution yard is located within 500 miles of such lumber producing operation, sales of lumber for rail shipment in carload quantities or water shipment in any quantity out of stock of such distribution yard whether freight cost is borne by the buyer or seller shall not be covered by this order but shall be subject to the applicable mill regulation governing the species sold.

The body of this order contains the general provisions which are applicable to all of the appendices attached hereto.

NOTES: 1. Where the total charge figured on an M'BM basis is less than the minimum shown in the table, the permitted minimum charge may be added.

2. The cross-cutting addition may be made only as many times as are necessary to produce the desired length from the shortest standard multiple of that length in the size and grade required. The final cost, including cross-cutting and waste, may not exceed the most economical final cost of producing the required length.

3. The total charge for ripping and resawing may not include additions for more than three rips, and/or resaws.

(b) Kiln-drying. For kiln-drying, done at the yard, an addition of double the addition permitted by the applicable direct-mill regulation may be made.

(c) Custom milling or kiln-drying. Where the required working or kiln-drying cannot be performed by the distribution yard making the sale because it does not have the necessary facilities, the yard may add to the maximum price of the original size the actual cost of having the working or drying performed at a custom establishment provided the end product produced is a non-standard size or an item larger than boards or dimension. If the distribution yard has the facilities to perform the required workings or drying the maximum charges in paragraphs (a) and (b) of this section apply. If the end product is a standard or near standard size of boards or dimension, no additions may be made and the maximum price must be computed on the basis of the item produced.

No addition may be made for transportation to or from the custom establishment.

The special provisions and specific prices applicable in particular areas are set forth in the respective appendices, each of which is issued as a part of this order. Insofar as any provision contained in any appendix may be inconsistent with any provision contained in the body of this order, the provision contained in the appendix shall be controlling in the area governed by that appendix.

SEC. 2. What this order does not cover. This order does not cover sales by wholesale distribution yards or "wholesale-type" sales by retail distribution yards as defined in sections 5 (d) and 5 (e) herein.

SEC. 3. Additions for working, kiln drying, and pressure treatment—(a) Basic workings. When a distribution yard is required to perform workings, the following additions per M'BM may be made to the maximum price of the most economical size listed in the applicable appendix from which the desired item may be obtained: Provided,

(1) The end product is not a standard size, or a size reasonably similar thereto as shown in the applicable appendix (Example: If a yard resaws 2" x 6" S4S and the end product is a board 2 3/32" thick, this is a size "reasonably similar" to standard thickness 2 1/2"); or

(2) The end product is thicker than 2", wider than 12" or longer than 22 feet.

(d) Custom pressure treating. Where pressure treating of untreated lumber in the yard's stock at time of sale is required, and the distribution yard making the sale does not have the necessary facilities, the yard may make the additions shown below. If the yard has the necessary treating facilities, Maximum Price Regulation 491, Pressure Preservative Treatment of Forest Products and Pressure Treated Forest Products, is applicable.

(1) Douglas fir, West Coast hemlock, all species of true fir, redwood, sitka spruce, and Western red cedar. (Retention up to and including 20 lbs.) The total of the additions in (i), (ii) and (iii) may be made:

(i) Treating addition:

b. Sales of 2,000 feet to 10,000 feet: $23.75 per M'BM.

c. Sales of less than 2,000 feet: $20.50 per M'BM plus a flat addition of $7.00 regardless of quantity.

(ii) Cost of transportation to buyer's destination by way of treating plant.

(iii) Cost of preservative in accordance with section 6 (d) of 2nd Revised Maximum Price Regulation 215.

(2) For all other species, deduct $4.00 per M'BM from above prices.

NOTES: 1. For pressure treating to a retention over 20 lbs. to 22 lbs. (inclusive), add $5.00 per M'BM; over 22 lbs. to 24 lbs. (inclusive), add $15.00 per M'BM; over 24 lbs., add $20.00 per M'BM.

2. The quantities referred to in this subsection are the total amounts of treated lumber involved in the transactions.

SEC. 4. Delivery practices and charges.

(a) For yards covered by this order located in the State of Illinois and Lake County, Indiana, no charge may be made for delivery within a radius of 25 miles. For deliveries beyond a radius of 25 miles an addition of 10 cents per M'BM may be made for each mile beyond the first 25 miles, but not for any part of the return trip. If the buyer picks up the lumber at the yard, no reduction in price is required.

(b) For yards covered by this order located in the States of Minnesota, North Dakota, South Dakota, Iowa, Nebraska and Wisconsin, no charge may be made for delivery within a radius of 10 miles to those classes of customers to whom free delivery was extended in March 1942 and thereafter. For deliveries of more than 10 miles to such classes of customers an addition of 10 cents per M'BM may be made for each mile beyond the first 10 miles, but not for any part of the return trip. If the buyer picks up the lumber at the yard no reduction in price is required.

To all classes of customers to whom free delivery was not included in March 1942, and thereafter, an additional charge for delivery may be made; Provided, That such charge does not exceed that made for the same type of delivery during March 1942.

(c) New yards not in existence in March 1942 covered by this order must establish free delivery practices as favorable as those prevailing for yards in existence in March 1942 in the applicable area as determined in (a) and (b) above.

(d) Common or contract carrier. When delivery is by common or contract carrier, i. e., truckers, only the actual amount paid to the carrier may be added. However, the permitted estimated weights for rail shipment in the appropriate direct-mill regulation may be used, where given, in the event of delivery by rail. If delivery by rail is on a transit rate, that rate is the maximum which may be used in computing the addition for delivery.

SEC. 5. Definitions—(a) Retail yard. A retail distribution yard covered by this order means any distribution yard which during both the calendar years 1940 and 1942 sold more than 50 percent of its dollar volume of softwood lumber and/or hardwood flooring to persons other than distribution yards, wholesale or retail (in determining the dollar volume of softwood lumber and/or hardwood flooring hereunder, direct mill sales shall not be included), and in addition, meets all of the following requirements:

(1) It obtains lumber from mills, concentration yards, wholesalers, or other distribution yards, and unloads, sorts, stores, and resells such lumber.

(2) It regularly maintains for sale an inventory of varied items, species, and classes of lumber, lumber products and other building materials.

(3) It obtains its lumber, except for local species, mostly by rail or water and sells mostly for truck shipment, being stocked and equipped to make prompt delivery of different items of lumber or lumber products out of its yard.

(4) It furnishes on all sales the usual distribution yard services, such as accepting returns, making exchanges, filling shortages from stock.

(5) It has an office and records at the yard site, is manned by a crew employed by the yard, and exclusively owns or controls all facilities of such establishment and uses the same for the handling and sale of the material bought and sold by it.

(6) It is a separate and distinct operation from any concentration yard or mill operation as defined in the applicable mill regulation governing the species sold. For purposes of this requirement, such an establishment is not a separate and distinct operation unless it maintains for its use, exclusive of use by any mill or concentration yard, the following separate facilities: site, equipment, personnel and records (for the handling and sale of material of the distribution yard), yard and shed, offices, yard help, sales force, managerial staff, stock of lumber, inventory records, books of account, bank account, detailed charges to inventory by price, grade and sizes of items, and operating and profit and loss statements, none of which are used in connection with the operation of a mill or concentration yard as defined in the applicable mill regulation governing the species sold; Provided, however, That where a distribution yard has been continuously operating on the same site as a mill or concentration yard since prior to January 1, 1943, the requirement that it shall be situated at a separate site shall not apply, and provided further that where a distribution yard has been continuously operating on the same site as a mill or concentration yard since prior to January 1, 1943, and the total sales volume including all building materials of such combined operation has not exceeded $120,000 during any twelve month period since prior to January 1, 1943, the requirement that the above mentioned facilities need to be separately maintained shall not apply.

(7) An establishment, which does not meet all the requirements set forth in (1) to (6) above, will be classified as a distribution yard covered by this order if:

(i) The establishment was selling softwood lumber and/or hardwood flooring at distribution yard prices before December 31, 1942, and has continued to do so since that date; or

(ii) The establishment received written authorization from the OPA, before April 23, 1946, to sell softwood lumber and/or hardwood flooring at distribution yard prices.

(b) Sale out of distribution yard stock. A sale out of distribution yard stock means a sale made by a distribution yard for shipment of lumber which is a regular part of distribution yard stock and which actually has been sorted, stored, and handled as a regular yard stock by the distribution yard before delivery.

(c) Quantities. Quantity is in every instance to be determined by the total amount ordered without regard to the number of kinds or species or grades of lumber included. Furthermore, the amount delivered at a particular time does not determine the quantity. The test is the total amount involved in the transaction.

In determining the size of a sale of shingles or lath, a conversion ratio of 10 squares of shingles to 1,000 board feet of lumber or 6,000 lath to 1,000 board feet of lumber shall be used.

(d) Wholesale yards. A wholesale distribution yard means any distribution yard which, during either of the calendar years 1940 or 1941 sold 50 percent or more of its dollar volume of softwood lumber and/or hardwood flooring to other distribution yards, wholesale or retail. In determining the dollar volume of softwood lumber and/or hardwood flooring hereunder, direct-mill sales shall not be included. A wholesale distribution yard as defined herein is not covered by this order and is subject to the provisions of 2nd Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 215.

(e) "Wholesale-type" sale. A "wholesale-type" sale by retail distribution yards is a sale in any quantity of lumber for use in stowing cargo for water shipment or a sale of 5,000 feet B. M. or more made to one of the following classes of buyers: ("to" means directly to the person named; "for" means to contractors who will use the lumber to fulfill a contract with the person named.)

(1) To or for the United States Government or its agencies;

(2) To, but not for, State Governments (including the District of Columbia) or their political subdivisions; or agencies of any of these;

(3) To an industrial user for use in the fabrication, packaging or shipping of its products;

(4) To, but not for, a railroad;

(5) To or for a shipbuilder, dock-builder, dam builder, or bridge builder.

(f) Financial connection. Financial connection means all circumstances of partial or total common ownership or beneficial interest, or profit or loss sharing arrangements.

(g) Family relationship. Family relationship means any person related to the seller or to the seller's spouse within the fifth degree either by blood or marriage.

(h) A "wholesale-type" sale as defined herein is not covered by this order and is subject to 2nd Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 215.

SEC. 6. Relationship of this order to 2d RMPR 215. The maximum prices set forth in this order or any appendix thereto supersede the maximum prices established by 2d Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 215. Except to the extent that they are inconsistent with the provisions of this order, all other provisions of 2d Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 215 shall apply to sales covered by this order. Any distribution yard sale of lumber and lumber products subject to 2d Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 215 for which a maximum price is not fixed by this order shall remain subject to 2d Revised Maximum Price Regulation 215.

SEC. 7. Posting. One copy of this order with amendments, if any, shall be kept on the counter in the office of the seller or if there is no counter at some other equivalent place where it shall be freely available to purchaser for inspection.

SEC. 8. Invoicing and records. (a) Every person making a retail type sale of lumber or lumber products covered by this order must provide the purchaser, whether he requests it or not, with an invoice, sales slip, receipt, or other evidence of sale of which an exact and full copy shall be retained by the seller for the duration of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The invoice or other evidence of sale shall contain the following information with respect to items subject to this order:

1. Name and address of seller.
2. Date of sale.
3. Name and address of purchaser (necessary only on sales totaling $7.50 or more).
4. Description of the item sold, including quantity, grade, length, size, condition, special treatment, workings, and any other matter insofar as any of these matters may affect the price, in full detail necessary to permit the exact calculation of the applicable maximum price.
5. The invoice must also show whether working, kiln-drying, or treating was done by a distribution yard or custom establishment; if done by a custom establishment a copy of the bill for such services must be attached to distribution yard invoice. Any addition for delivery must be shown separately on the invoice.
6. The total price.

(b) Maximum prices for items improperly invoiced. Where an invoice upon a sale of lumber does not contain a sufficiently complete description to show that the price appearing on its face is within the maximum prices fixed by this order the maximum price applicable to such sale shall be the maximum price of the lowest priced item under this order to which the incomplete description could apply. In the absence of any description the maximum price shall be the lowest price that can be computed under this order.

SEC. 9. Prohibitive practices. (a) Any practice which is a device to get the effect of a higher-than-ceiling price without actually raising the price is as much a violation of this order as an outright over-ceiling price. This applies to devices making use of commissions, services, transportation arrangements, premiums, special privileges, tying agreements, trade understandings, and the like.

(b) The following are some of the specific practices prohibited:

- (1) Getting the effect of a higher price by changing credit practices or cash discounts from what they were in August 1941. This includes reducing the cash discount period, decreasing credit periods, or making greater charges for extension of credit. For purposes of this paragraph, no discount over 2 percent is considered a cash discount. If the seller was not in business in August 1941 the discount for cash shall be as favorable as that prevailing for yards in existence in August 1941 in the applicable area. However, on specific written allocations issued by the Office of Chief of Engineers, War Department, the terms 30 days net may be used by the seller regardless of his established practice.

(2) Selling as specified lengths a shipment of lumber which is substantially equivalent to standard or random lengths.

(3) Grading as a special grade lumber which can be graded as a standard grade; or wrongly grading or invoicing lumber in any other way.

(4) Refusing to sell on an f. o. b. yard basis, and insisting on selling on a delivered basis, except in the case of sales whose price includes free delivery; or refusing to make delivery within the free delivery zone, unless it was not the practice of the seller in March, 1942 to make delivery in the particular circumstances, in which case the delivery charge may not exceed that made for the same type of delivery in March, 1942.

(5) Quoting a gross price above the maximum price, even if accompanied by a discount the effect of which is to bring the net price below the maximum.

(6) Breaking up an order which would normally be a single order into a series of smaller orders in order to evade the maximum price limitations in this order.

(7) Delivering or charging for a quantity under 1,000 feet B. M. where 1,000 feet or more was ordered for the purpose of getting the higher mark-up permitted for quantities less than 1,000 feet.

(8) Failing to invoice properly and in accordance with requirements of this order.

(9) Charging, paying or receiving a commission for the service of procuring, buying, selling, or locating lumber, or for any related service (such as "expediting") which does not involve actual physical handling of lumber, if the commission plus the purchase price results in a total payment by the buyer of lumber which is higher than the maximum price of the lumber, except as may be provided in any applicable mill regulation. For purposes of this order, a commission is any compensation, however designated, which is paid for the procurement of lumber. This prohibition has no application to the case of a bona fide employer-employee relationship where the employee serves only one employer, insofar as lumber procurement is concerned, and where the compensation paid by the employer is a fixed salary not based directly or indirectly on the quantity, price or value of the lumber in connection with which the service is rendered.

SEC. 10. Enforcement. (a) Persons violating any provision of this order are subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages, and proceedings for suspension of licenses provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(b) War procurement agencies and their contracting or paying finance officers are not subject to any liability, civil or criminal, imposed by this order. Persons who make sales covered by this order to War Procurement agencies and buyers to whom lumber has been allocated by any such agencies are, however, subject to all the liabilities imposed by this order. "War Procurement Agencies" include the War Department, the Navy Department, the United States Maritime Commission, and the Lend-Lease Section in the Procurement Division of the Treasury Department, or any of their agencies. Such agencies are nevertheless subject to this order.

SEC. 11. Licensing. The provision of Licensing Order No. 1, licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all sellers subject to this order. A seller's license may be suspended for violations of the license or of one or more applicable price schedules or regulations. A person whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

SEC. 12. New yards. Before making any sales of lumber at the maximum prices established by this order, and/or under the provisions of 2d Revised Maximum Price Regulation 215, any person who has set up or sets up a retail distribution yard covered by this order and/or the provisions of 2d Revised Maximum Price Regulation 215, or a wholesale distribution yard covered by 2d Revised Maximum Price Regulation 215 after December 31, 1942, but who has not received specific approval in writing from the Office of Price Administration of his use of the maximum prices established by 2d Revised Maximum Price Regulation 215 on his sales of lumber or lumber products must file with the Office of Price Administration District Office nearest the location of his establishment a letter reading as follows:

I (we) propose to establish a lumber distribution yard as defined in Section 16 of 2d Revised Maximum Price Regulation 215, Distribution Yard Sales of Softwood.

This yard will be known as _____ (give name of company), will be operated as a _____ (wholesale or retail, specify which), lumber distribution yard, and will be located at _____ (give address of yard).

(Signed) _____

SEC. 13. Petitions for amendment. Any person seeking an amendment to this order may file a petition for amendment in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1, except that the petition shall be filed with the Regional Administrator of the Chicago Regional Office of the Office of Price Administration.

This order may be amended, modified, or revoked at any time.

This order shall become effective September 23, 1946.

Issued this 23d day of September 1946.

EARL W. CLARK,
Regional Administrator.

APPENDIX A

TABLE 1—ZONE 1-24-30—ILLINOIS

"Quantity sales" in the following tables apply to orders that total more than 1000 board feet of any one or number of sizes, grades or species of softwood lumber, lath, shingles or hardwood flooring. If an order includes shingles or lath compute footage of these items on the basis of: 10 squares of shingles or 6000 lath equals 1000 board feet. "Small sales" are sales totaling 1000 board feet or less of any one or number of sizes, grades or species of softwood lumber, lath, shingles or hardwood flooring.

If total order is less than $7.50, 10% may be added to the price of small sales.

OPINION ACCOMPANYING REGIONAL ORDER G-3 UNDER REVISED GENERAL ORDER 65

Regional Order G-2 under Revised General Order 65, was issued on June 3, 1946. That order superseded in its entirety, Regional Order G-1 issued on January 28, 1946. The reasons and considerations involved in the issuance of the aforementioned regional orders are equally applicable to this Regional Order G-3.

Under the provisions of section 2 (t) of the Emergency Price Control Act, as amended, the Office of Price Administration was required to amend area pricing orders in conformance with the provisions of that section. It was not possible to accomplish this within the time limit provided. As a result, Amendment 1 to Regional Order G-2 was issued on August 24, 1946, revoking in its entirety Regional Order G-2 and all Appendices attached thereto. This Regional Order G-3 supersedes in their entirety Regional Order G-2 and Amendment No. 1 to Regional Order G-2, issued under the authority of Revised General Order 65.

Subsequent to that revocation order, the provisions of section 2 (t) of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, have been complied with, and all necessary computations have been made to amend the dollar-and-cent prices on retail sales of softwood lumber items and hardwood flooring items covered by Regional Order G-2. The Office of Price Administration is therefore issuing this Order G-3 covering items of softwood lumber, shingles, and hardwood flooring based on the provisions of 2nd Revised Maximum Price Regulation 215, and using freight rates currently in effect, as part of the landed cost to Retail Distribution Yards. The prices established under this new Order G-3, are generally in line with the level of the maximum prices established under 2nd Revised Maximum Price Regulation 215, and carry out the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

The Office of Price Administration has taken advantage of issuance of this order to incorporate the provisions of Amendment 23 to 2nd Revised Maximum Price Regulation 215 which provides that certain establishments, which do not meet all of the specific requirements set forth in Section 6 of Regional Order G-3 will be classified as distribution yards provided that conditions are complied with as set forth in Amendment 23.

This order will be amended from time to time by the addition of appendices which will be incorporated into and made a part of this order. Each appendix will contain dollars-and-cents prices for sales of the varied types of softwood lumber and hardwood flooring within specific areas in Region 6 of the Office of Price Administration.

All provisions of this order and their effect upon business practices, cost practices or methods, means or aids to distribution in the industry or industries affected have been carefully considered. No provisions which might have the effect of requiring a change in such practices, means, aids or methods established in the industry or industries affected, have been included in the order unless such provisions have been found necessary to achieve effective price control and to prevent circumvention or evasion of the order or of the Act. To the extent that the provisions of this order compel or may operate to compel changes in business practices, cost practices or methods, or means or aids to distribution established in the industry or industries affected, such provisions are necessary to prevent circumvention or evasion of this order or of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

[Oklahoma City Order 4 Under Gen. Order 68]

BUILDING MATERIALS IN OKLAHOMA

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and pursuant to the provisions of General Order No. 68, it is hereby ordered:

SECTION 1. What this order does. This order establishes maximum prices for all retail sales of certain building materials specifically described in Appendix A of this order when such sales are made in the geographical area comprising Oklahoma, Canadian, Logan, Cleveland, and McClain Counties in the State of Oklahoma.

SEC. 2. Definition of "retail sales." The term "retail sale" as used in this order means any sale of the building materials covered by this order to an ultimate user or to a contractor who will resell the same on an installed basis.

SEC. 3. Maximum prices. Maximum prices for commodities subject to this order are those set forth in Appendix A, which is specifically made a part of this order, subject to the terms and conditions of sale and other limitations set forth therein.

SEC. 4. The relation of this order to other regulations. The maximum prices fixed by this order supersede any maximum prices or price determining method previously established by any other regulation or order issued by the Office of Price Administration for the commodities covered by this order.

SEC. 5. Each seller making sales subject to this order shall post a copy of Appendix A of this order plainly visible to all purchasers in each of his places of business located in the area covered by this order.

SEC. 6. Invoices and notification. Each seller making sales subject to this order shall, if requested by any purchaser of commodities subject hereto, make available to such purchaser for inspection a copy of this order. Each seller covered by this order is required to furnish each purchaser with an invoice at the time of sale, which must contain the following information:

1. Name and address of the purchaser.
2. A description of each commodity sold.
3. The quantity of each commodity sold.
4. The price charged for each commodity sold.
5. If commodity was delivered, address to which delivery was made.
6. A statement of cash discounts allowed for prompt payment.
7. A separate statement of any amount added for the extension of credit.

Each seller is required to keep a duplicate of such invoice in his place of business, and make it available for inspection.

tion by the Office of Price Administration during regular business hours.

SEC. 7. Adjustment to reflect increase in supplier's price—(a) Applicability. This section is applicable only where the amendment or order which grants your supplier an increase in his maximum price provides that all resellers may increase their maximum prices for the commodity in question.

(b) Maximum price. You may increase the prices listed in this order by the amount permitted for reseller by the amendment or order increasing your supplier's maximum price. You can only do this, however, if the effective date of the action increasing your supplier's maximum price is later than the date stated on the price list contained in this order. Thus, if your supplier's price for a product is increased and at some later date the price listed in this order is increased for this product, the amendment to this order will supersede the increase originally granted to you by the amendment or order increasing your supplier's maximum price.

SEC. 8. What this order prohibits. Regardless of any obligation no person shall:

1. Sell, or in the course of trade or business buy, building materials at higher prices than the maximum prices set by this order; but less than the maximum prices may at any time be charged, paid or offered.

2. Obtain higher than maximum prices by:

- (i) Making a charge for delivery;
- (ii) Making a charge higher than this order authorizes for the extension of credit;
- (iii) Failure to give the discounts required by this order for prompt payment;
- (iv) Using any tying agreement or requiring that the buyer purchase anything in addition to the building materials requested by him; or
- (v) Using any other device by which a higher than maximum price is obtained directly or indirectly.

SEC. 9. Enforcement. 1. Persons violating any provisions of this order are subject to civil and criminal penalties, including suits for treble damages, provided for by the Emergency Control Act of 1942, as amended.

2. Persons who have any evidence of any violation of this order are urged to communicate with the Oklahoma City District Office of the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 10. Building materials not covered by this order. There are building materials sold and delivered in the area covered by this order which are not included in, and for which prices are not established in this order. The maximum prices for such building materials, when sold by any person covered by this order, shall continue to be determined under the applicable Maximum Price Regulation. Sellers who are in doubt as to the regulation applicable to such building materials should consult the Oklahoma City District Office of the Office of Price Administration.

This order may be amended or revoked at any time by the Office of Price Administration.

SEC. 11. Order No. 1 under General Order No. 68 is hereby revoked and replaced by this order.

This order shall become effective August 19, 1946.

OPINION ACCOMPANYING ORDER NO. 4 UNDER GENERAL ORDER NO. 68

Pursuant to the authority vested in the District Director of the Oklahoma City District Office by General Order No. 68 and Order of Delegation No. 126 issued by The Regional Administrator, Region V, the accompanying order No. 4 has been issued establishing maximum prices for retail sales of certain specified building materials. The order establishes maximum prices for all retail sales of such building materials when made in the geographical area comprising Oklahoma, Canadian, Logan, Cleveland, and McClain Counties in the State of Oklahoma.

Under the provisions of General Order No. 68 and Delegation of Authority No. 126 from the Regional Administrator of Region V, the District Director is authorized to issue and put into effect pricing orders for the building materials included in said order No. 4, in accordance with the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and consistent with Executive Orders 9250 and 9328.

Section B of General Order No. 68 requires that the District Director in issuing such orders observe the following standards:

(1) Maximum prices shall be stated in dollars-and-cents terms unless this shall clearly appear to be impracticable or inappropriate.

(2) Maximum prices fixed by any such pricing order shall not exceed the general level of prices in the area.

In accordance with this authority, the District Director has issued order No. 4 under General Order No. 68.

Prior to the issuance of this order the maximum prices for the sales of building materials covered thereby were established by the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation and other maximum price regulations, which did not establish dollars-and-cents maximum prices but rather established sellers' maximum prices as the highest prices which they charged during March of 1942 or a specified freeze date.

It has been determined that the freeze date technique of establishing maximum prices has in many instances made it difficult for both seller and buyer of building material items covered by Order No. 4 to determine whether the prices charged or paid are in compliance with the applicable maximum price regulations.

It is the finding of the District Director that the issuance of Order No. 4 is in conformity with the present program of the Office of Price Administration to establish dollars-and-cents prices on building materials, and that a simplified pricing method easily understood and applied by both the buyer and the seller is urgently needed, and is accomplished by the issuance of Order No. 4.

The District Director has observed the above quoted standards set forth in General Order No. 68 in issuing Order No. 4. It sets forth specific dollars-and-cents prices which may be charged for building material items covered. It further establishes maximum prices which are in line with the level of prices which existed in Oklahoma, Canadian, Logan, Cleveland and McClain Counties, Oklahoma, under the provisions of maximum price regulations applicable prior to the issuance of this order.

The level of prices as expressed in Order No. 4 was determined by a survey conducted by the Office of Price Administration of a representative group of sellers affected by the order. The prices set forth in the order reflect the level of prices reported to the O. P. A. by the sellers who were surveyed.

Preliminary to any action being taken by the Oklahoma City District Office in establishing maximum prices for building materials and before any surveys were made, an advisory group of sellers, who would be affected by said order, were consulted. From this advisory group, advice was obtained as to the commodities which should be included in said order and other pertinent information. After the survey was accomplished and the results tabulated, a preliminary draft of the maximum prices proposed was submitted to a representative group of the sellers to be affected by the order. Consideration has been given to the recommendations and suggestions made by the industry groups with whom representatives of the District Office consulted prior to issuance of this order.

Insofar as practicable the order recognizes and perpetuates business practices which have been in effect in the area covered by the order.

This order further authorizes sellers to increase the prices listed in this order by the amount permitted for reseller by any amendment or order increasing the suppliers' maximum price, provided the effective date of the action increasing the suppliers' maximum prices is later than the date stated on the price list contained in this order.

In order to effectuate the purposes herein expressed, sellers subject to Order

No. 4 are required to keep certain records and give to their customers sales slips or invoices containing specified information, which requirements are set forth in section VI of the order.

It is, therefore, the finding of the District Director that Order No. 4 has been issued in conformity with provisions and requirements of standards set forth in General Order No. 68, and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and is consistent with Executive Order 9250 and 9328.

This order will not compel changes in established business practices except such as in the judgment of the District Director are necessary to prevent evasion of this order.

For the foregoing reasons, the District Director has issued the accompanying Order No. 4.

[Birmingham Order G-3 Under Gen. Order 68, Amdt. 4]

HARD BUILDING MATERIALS IN BIRMINGHAM, ALA., AREA

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and under the authority vested in the District Director of the Birmingham District Office, Region IV, of the Office of Price Administration by General Order No. 68 and Regional Delegation Order No. 93, Order G-3 under General Order No. 68 is amended in the following respects:

(1) The maximum prices set forth in Table I are amended to read as set forth on the attached revised Table I, effective August 26, 1946.

(2) This amendment reflects the increases in maximum prices permitted by Supplementary Order 172 (Modification of Resellers Maximum Prices Established under General Order 68 for certain Building and Construction Materials). Accordingly, this amendment supersedes that supplementary order, and the maximum prices established by this amendment cannot be increased under that supplementary order.

(3) A new section 4A is added to read as follows:

SEC. 4A. Adjustment to reflect increase in suppliers' price—1. Applicability. This section is applicable only where the amendment or order which grants your supplier an increase in his maximum price provides that all resellers, including those subject to area orders issued under General Order 68, may increase their maximum prices for the commodity in question.

2. Maximum price. You may increase the price listed in this order by the amount permitted for resellers by the amendment or order increasing your suppliers' maximum price. You can only do this, however, if the effective date of the action increasing your suppliers' maximum price is later than the date stated on the price list contained in this order. Thus, if your suppliers' maximum price for a product is increased and at some later date the price listed in this order is increased for this product, the amendment to this order will supersede the increase originally granted you by the amendment or order increasing your suppliers' maximum price.

This Amendment No. 4 to Order G-3 under General Order No. 68 shall become effective August 26, 1946.

Issued this 23d day of August 1946.

SAM J. WATKINS,
District Director.

OPINION ACCOMPANYING AMDT. 4 TO ORDER G-3 UNDER GEN. ORDER 68

The accompanying Amendment No. 4 to Order No. G-3 under General Order

No. 68, which establishes area wide prices for retail sales of hard building materials in the Birmingham, Alabama Trading Area, was issued for the purpose of revising the maximum prices set forth in Table I to correspond to recent increases in the retailer's cost of those items listed in the Table, for which increased prices have been approved at the higher levels of distribution. The order also brings under the coverage of the order an additional list of commodities not included in the coverage of the order as heretofore amended.

The amendment reflects the increases in maximum prices permitted by Supplementary Order 172 (Modification of Resellers Maximum Prices Established under General Order 68 for certain Building and Construction Materials). Accordingly, this amendment supersedes that supplementary order, and the maximum prices established by this amendment cannot be increased under that supplementary order.

The amendment also adds an additional section, designated Section 4-A, which provides a method of adjustment to reflect increase in supplier's maximum prices in accordance with the conditions set forth in this new section.

OPINION ACCOMPANYING AMDT. 3 TO ORDER 7 ISSUED UNDER GEN. ORDER 68

Today's amendment, effective October 7, 1946, is issued for the purpose of transferring the coverage of Dixon County, Nebraska from Order No. 7 to Order No. 8. A further study of prices prevailing for sellers at retail of hard building materials in Dixon County, Nebraska prior to the issuance of area pricing orders by this office, has revealed that such prices were, generally speaking, higher than those previously for sellers in the other counties covered by Order No. 7 and were more nearly in line with the prices prevailing for sellers in counties covered by Order No. 8.

It has therefore been deemed advisable to transfer Dixon County, Nebraska from Order No. 7 to Order No. 8, and sellers at retail of hard building materials in Dixon County, Nebraska will on and after the effective date of this order price under the provisions of Order No. 8 issued under General Order No. 68.

[Oklahoma Order 5 Under Gen. Order 68]

BUILDING MATERIALS IN TULSA, OKLA.

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith and pursuant to the provisions of General Order No. 68, it is hereby ordered:

SECTION 1. What this order does. This order establishes maximum prices for all retail sales of certain building materials specifically described in Appendix A of this order when such sales are made in the geographical area comprising the corporate limits of the city of Tulsa, Oklahoma.

SEC. 2. Definition of "retail sales." The term "retail sale" as used in this order means any sale of the building materials covered by this order to an ultimate user or to a contractor who will resell the same on an installed basis.

SEC. 3. Maximum prices. Maximum prices for commodities subject to this order are those set forth in Appendix A, which is specifically made a part of this order, subject to the terms and conditions of sale and other limitations set forth therein.

SEC. 4. The relation of this order to other regulations. The maximum prices fixed by this order supersede any maximum prices or price determination method previously established by any other regulation or order issued by the Office of Price Administration for the commodities covered by this order.

SEC. 5. Each seller making sales subject to this order shall post a copy of Appendix A of this order plainly visible to all purchasers in each of his places of business located in the area covered by this order.

SEC. 6. Invoices and notification. Each seller making sales subject to this order shall, if requested by any purchaser of commodities subject hereto, make available to such purchaser for inspection a copy of this order. Each seller covered by this order is required to furnish each purchaser with an invoice at the time of sale, which must contain the following information:

1. Name and address of the purchaser.
2. A description of each commodity sold.
3. The quantity of each commodity sold.
4. The price charged for each commodity sold.
5. If commodity was delivered, address to which delivery was made.
6. A statement of cash discounts allowed for prompt payment.
7. A separate statement of any amount added for the extension of credit.

Each seller is required to keep a duplicate of such invoice in his place of business, and make it available for inspection by the Office of Price Administration during regular business hours.

SEC. 7. Adjustment to reflect increase in supplier's price—(a). Applicability.

This section is applicable only where the amendment or order which grants your supplier an increase in his maximum price provides that all resellers may increase their maximum prices for the commodity in question.

(b) Maximum price. You may increase the prices listed in this order by the amount permitted for reseller by the amendment or order increasing your supplier's maximum price. You can only do this, however, if the effective date of the action increasing your supplier's maximum price is later than the date stated on the price list contained in this order. Thus, if your supplier's price for a product is increased and at some later date the price listed in this order is increased for this product, the amendment to this order will supersede the increase originally granted to you by the amendment or order increasing your supplier's maximum price.

Sec. 8. What this order prohibits. Regardless of any obligation no person shall:

1. Sell, or in the course of trade or business buy, building materials at higher prices than the maximum prices set by this order; but less than the maximum prices may at any time be charged, paid or offered.

2. Obtain higher than maximum prices by

(i) Making a charge for delivery;
(ii) Making a charge higher than this order authorizes for the extension of credit;

(iii) Failure to give the discounts required by this order for prompt payment;

(iv) Using any tying agreement or requiring that the buyer purchase anything in addition to the building materials requested by him; or

(v) Using any other device by which a higher than maximum price is obtained directly or indirectly.

Sec. 9. Enforcement. 1. Persons violating any provisions of this order are subject to civil and criminal penalties, including suits for treble damages, provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

2. Persons who have any evidence of any violation of this order are urged to communicate with the Oklahoma City District Office of the Office of Price Administration.

Sec. 11. Building materials not covered by this order. There are building materials sold and delivered in the area covered by this order which are not included in, and for which prices are not established in this order. The maximum prices for such building materials, when sold by any person covered by this order, shall continue to be determined under the applicable Maximum Price Regulation. Sellers who are in doubt as to the regulation applicable to such building materials should consult the Oklahoma City District Office of the Office of Price Administration.

This order may be amended or revoked at any time by the Office of Price Administration.

This order shall become effective August 19, 1946.

OPINION ACCOMPANYING ORDER NO. 5 UNDER GENERAL ORDER NO. 68

Pursuant to the authority vested in the District Director of the Oklahoma City District Office by General Order No. 68 and Order of Delegation No. 126 issued by the Regional Administrator, Region V, the accompanying Order No. 5 has been issued establishing maximum prices for retail sales of certain specified building materials. The order establishes maximum prices for all retail sales of such building materials when made in the geographical area comprising the corporate limits of the city of Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Under the provisions of General Order No. 68 and Delegation of Authority No. 126 from the Regional Administrator of Region V, the District Director is authorized to issue and put into effect pricing orders for the building materials included in said Order No. 5, in accordance with the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and consistent with Executive Orders 9250 and 9328.

Section V of General Order No. 68, requires that the District Director in issuing such orders observe the following standards:

(1) Maximum prices shall be stated in dollars-and-cents terms unless this shall clearly appear to be impracticable or inappropriate.

(2) Maximum prices fixed by any such pricing order shall not exceed the general level of prices in the area.

In accordance with this authority, the District Director has issued Order No. 5 under General Order No. 68.

Prior to the issuance of this Order the Maximum Prices for the sales of building materials covered thereby were established by the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation and other maximum price regulations, which did not establish dollars-and-cents maximum prices but rather established sellers' maximum prices as the highest prices which they charged during March of 1942 or a specified freeze date. It has been determined that the freeze date technique of establishing maximum prices has in many instances made it difficult for both seller and buyer of building material items covered by Order No. 5 to determine whether the prices charged or paid are in compliance with the applicable maximum price regulations.

It is the finding of the District Director that the issuance of Order No. 5 is in conformity with the present program of the Office of Price Administration to establish dollars-and-cents prices on building materials, and that a simplified pricing method easily understood and applied by both the buyer and the seller is urgently needed, and is accomplished by the issuance of Order No. 5.

The District Director has observed the above quoted standards set forth in General Order No. 68 in issuing Order No. 5. It sets forth specific dollars-and-cents prices which may be charged for building material items covered. It further establishes maximum prices which are in line with the level of prices which existed in Tulsa, Oklahoma, under the provisions of maximum price regulations applicable prior to the issuance of this order.

The level of prices as expressed in Order No. 5 was determined by a survey conducted by the Office of Price Administration of a representative group of sellers affected by the order. The prices set forth in the order reflect the level of prices reported to the O. P. A. by the sellers who were surveyed.

Preliminary to any action being taken by the Oklahoma City District Office in establishing maximum prices for building materials and before any surveys were made, an advisory group of sellers, who would be affected by said order, were consulted. From this advisory group advice was obtained as to the commodities which should be included in said Order and other pertinent information. After the survey was accomplished and the results tabulated, a preliminary draft of the maximum prices proposed was submitted to a representative group of the sellers to be affected by the order. Consideration has been given to the recommendations and suggestions made by the industry groups with whom representatives of the District Office consulted prior to issuance of this order.

Insofar as practicable the order recognizes and perpetuates business practices which have been in effect in the area covered by the order.

This order further authorizes sellers to increase the prices listed in this order by the amount permitted for reseller by any amendment or order increasing the suppliers' maximum price, provided the effective date of the action increasing the suppliers' maximum prices is later than the date stated on the price list contained in this order.

In order to effectuate the purposes herein expressed, sellers subject to Order No. 5 are required to keep certain records and give to their customers sales slips or invoices containing specified information, which requirements are set forth in section VI of the order.

It is, therefore, the finding of the District Director that Order No. 5 has been issued in conformity with the provisions and requirements of standards set forth in General Order No. 68, and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and is consistent with Executive Orders 9250 and 9328.

This order will not compel changes in established business practices except such as in the judgment of the District Director are necessary to prevent evasion of this order.

For the foregoing reasons, the District Director has issued the accompanying Order No. 5.

[Region IV Order G-50 Under 18 (c)]
FIREWOOD IN CERTAIN CITIES IN STATE OF VIRGINIA

For the reasons set forth in an opinion issued simultaneously herewith, and under the authority vested in the Regional Administrator, Region IV, Office of Price Administration, by § 1499.18 (c) of the GMPR, it is hereby ordered:

(a) Purpose of order. It is the purpose of this order to establish specific maximum prices for firewood sold to consumers at retail in the particular area hereinafter set forth.

(b) Geographical applicability. The provisions of this order extend to all persons selling firewood to consumers at retail in the cities of Norfolk, Portsmouth, Newport News, and Hampton, Virginia, and the Counties of Princess Anne, Norfolk, and Elizabeth City, all in the State of Virginia.

(c) Ceiling prices. On and after the effective date of this order, regardless of any contract, agreement or other obligation, no person may sell, or offer to sell, firewood at retail to consumers in the geographical area in which this order is applicable at prices in excess of the maximum ceiling prices which shall be as follows:

(1) For firewood delivered by the seller to the consumer's home, place of business, or other designated place, the maximum ceiling prices shall be as follows:

Slabwood:	Per cord
Pine	$14.30
Oak	15.40
Pine cordwood produced from stumpage	18.15
Oak cordwood produced from stumpage	20.35

For sales of firewood in quantities less than a cord, the maximum price shall be determined as follows: Divide the per cord price for the type of firewood sold, by 128 and multiply the quotient by the number of cubic feet sold.

(d) Definitions. (1) "Cord": A "cord" of firewood contains 128 cubic feet, measured by stacking the firewood in even solid piles 4 feet wide, 4 feet high and 8 feet long.

(2) Other definitions: For other definitions, reference should be made to § 1499.20 of the General Maximum Price Regulation, which section and the definitions contained therein are hereby made a part of this order.

(e) Posting of maximum prices. All sellers subject to this order shall post all the maximum prices as hereby established in their places of business in a manner plainly visible to, and understandable by, the purchasing public.

(f) Receipt and sales slips. Every person making a sale of firewood for which a maximum price is set by this order shall give the purchaser or his agent at the time of sale an invoice or other memorandum of sale, which shall show:

- (1) The date of sale;
- (2) The name and address of the buyer and seller;
- (3) The quantity and description of the firewood sold;
- (4) The place of sale (whether at the yard or delivered); and
- (5) The total price of the wood.

(g) Revocation and amendment. This order may be revoked, amended or corrected at any time.

(h) Petitions for amendment. Any person dissatisfied with any of the provisions of this order may request the Office of Price Administration to amend the order. Such petitions for amendment must be filed in accordance with the provisions of Revised Procedural Regulation No. 1, as amended.

(i) Enforcement. If any seller violates any provision of this order he is subject to the criminal penalties, civil enforcement actions, suits for treble damages and proceedings for suspensions of licenses, provided for by the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended.

(j) Licensing. The provisions of Licensing Order No. 1, licensing all persons who make sales under price control, are applicable to all dealers subject to this order. A seller's license may be suspended for violation of the license or of this order. A seller whose license is suspended may not, during the period of suspension, make any sale for which his license has been suspended.

(k) Relation to other price regulations. Except as otherwise provided herein, all transactions subject to this order remain subject to all the provisions of the General Maximum Price Regulation, together with all amendments, supplementary regulations and orders which heretofore have been, or hereafter may be, issued.

(l) Any applicable State sales tax may be added to the prices established in this order.

Effective date: This order shall become effective September 30, 1946.

Issued September 25, 1946.

JOHN D. MOSBY,
Acting Regional Administrator.

OPINION ACCOMPANYING ORDER G-50
UNDER § 1499.18 (c) OF THE GMPR

Order No. G-50 under § 1499.18 (c) of the General Maximum Price Regulation is issued simultaneously herewith by the Atlanta Regional Office. This order establishes flat (dollars-and-cents) prices for firewood when sold to consumers in the cities of Norfolk, Portsmouth, Newport News, and Hampton, Virginia, and the Counties of Princess Ann, Norfolk, and Elizabeth City, all in the State of Virginia.

The issuance of this order is necessary because of the scarcity of firewood in this area. A survey made by the Richmond District Office indicates that firewood is presently unavailable in sufficient quantities to meet consumer demands, the result being that the poorer class of people in this area is subjected to a distinct hardship. The existing ceiling prices for both cord wood and slabwood have been so low that firewood dealers in this area have discontinued handling cordwood. There now exists, or threatens to exist, a local shortage that will be substantially reduced or eliminated by the increases allowed in this order. The new ceiling prices, it is believed, will provide an incentive for the production of additional supplies, thus relieving the present shortage and will be more in line with nearby areas where prices are higher for this commodity.

OPINION ACCOMPANYING AMDT. 1 TO ORDER G-1 UNDER REV. GEN. ORDER 65

The accompanying Amendment No. 1 to Order No. G-1 issued by the Regional Administrator for Region I under Revised General Order No. 65, permits certain increases in the maximum dollar and cent prices fixed by this Order for Western Softwood Shingles.

Prior to this Order No. G-1, maximum prices for distribution yard sales of Western Softwood Shingles were established by 2nd Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 215. That regulation fixes maximum prices by a formula based upon the f. o. b. mill price. This Order No. G-1 translated these formula prices into specific dollar and cent maximum prices.

2nd Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 164, effective September 23, 1946, increases the f. o. b. mill prices for Western Softwood Shingles. In some cases, the application of the formula set forth in 2nd Revised Maximum Price Regulation No. 215, based upon the increased mill prices, results in maximum prices for distribution yard sales of Western Softwood Shingles higher than those established by this Order No. G-1. Accordingly, the maximum prices for Western Softwood Shingles have been recomputed and the applicable counter book sheet has been revised.

General Order No. 68 effective September 16, 1945, issued by the Price Administrator authorized each Regional Administrator of the Office of Price Administration and any District Director authorized by the Regional Administrator to establish prices for sales of certain hard building materials to ultimate users or to purchasers for resale on an installed basis.

This Amendment No. 4 to Order No. G-1 to General Order No. 68 is issued for the following reasons:

1. On August 21, 1946, the Des Moines District Office issued Amendment No. 3 to Order No. G-1. This amendment was issued to authorize increased maximum prices to reflect average increases in acquisition costs for the applicable commodities in conformance with the provisions of section 2 (t) of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. Amendment No. 3 did not, however, authorize increases for Mason's Hydrated Lime.

In Appendix A of its memorandum of August 8, 1946, the National Office authorized a 12% increase in the price of lime to resellers covered by area orders. A review of Amendment 3 to Order No. G-1 has disclosed that this office erroneously omitted authorizing this increase to Mason's Hydrated Lime, 50 lb. bag.

This Amendment No. 4 authorizes the appropriate increases.

2. The maximum prices established in Order No. G-1 for "Portland Cement, St'd. Cloth Bag (Incl. Bag)—94 lbs." included a 10¢ deposit for the bag which was the uniform deposit in effect at the time of the issuance of the order. Since the manufacturers of Portland Cement have recently increased the deposit from 10¢ to 25¢ per bag, and since under the provisions of MPR No. 224 they may further revise the deposit required providing it remains reasonable, this amendment establishes maximum unit prices which do not include the dollar-and-cent deposit for the cloth bag. This removal of the amount of the deposit in the dollar-and-cent price authorized in the order will avoid the necessity of amending the order every time the manufacturers increase or decrease the amount of the deposit.

In the opinion of the District Director of the Des Moines, Iowa District Office of the Office of Price Administration, this amendment establishes prices that are generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders 9250 and 9328.

This amendment No. 2 to Order No. G-6 under General Order No. 68 shall become effective September 27, 1946.

OPINION ACCOMPANYING AMDT. 2 TO ORDER G-6 UNDER GENERAL ORDER 68

General Order No. 68 effective September 16, 1945, issued by the Price Administrator authorized each Regional Administrator of the Office of Price Administration and any District Director authorized by the Regional Administrator to establish prices for sales of certain hard building materials to ultimate users or to purchasers for resale on an installed basis.

This Amendment No. 2 to Order No. G-6 to General Order No. 68 is issued for the following reasons:

1. On August 21, 1946, the Des Moines District Office issued Amendment No. 1 to Order No. G-6. This amendment was issued to authorize increased maximum prices to reflect average increases in acquisition costs for the applicable commodities in conformance with the provisions of section 2 (t) of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. Amendment No. 1 did not, however, authorize increases for flue linings.

In Appendix A of its memorandum of August 8, 1946, the National Office authorized a 13% increase in the price of sewer pipe to resellers covered by area orders. Because the Appendix failed to list "sewer pipe and allied products", as designated in Amendment 54 to Order No. 1 of MPR No. 592, this office erroneously omitted authorizing the 13% increase for flue lining which is an allied product of sewer pipe.

This Amendment No. 2 authorizes the appropriate increases.

2. The maximum prices established in Order No. G-6 for "Portland Cement, St'd. Cloth Bag (Incl. Bag) 94 lb." included a 10¢ deposit for the bag which was the uniform deposit in effect at the time of the issuance of the order. Since the manufacturers of Portland Cement have recently increased the deposit from 10¢ to 25¢ per bag, and since under the provisions of MPR No. 224 they may further revise the deposit required providing it remains reasonable, this amendment establishes maximum unit prices which do not include the dollar-and-cent deposit for the cloth bag. This removal of the amount of the deposit in the dollar-and-cent price authorized in the order will avoid the necessity of amending the order every time the manufacturers increase or decrease the amount of the deposit.

In the opinion of the District Director of the Des Moines, Iowa District Office of the Office of Price Administration, this amendment establishes prices that are generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders 9250 and 9328.

An opinion accompanying this amendment, issued simultaneously herewith, has been filed with the Division of the Federal Register.

Order No. G-11 issued under the authority of General Order No. 68 is amended in the following respects:

1. Revised Appendix A, which is a part of the above named order, is amended by changing the maximum unit prices for the items set out below to read as follows:

Commodity	Unit	Maximum unit prices ¹
		Yard	Delivered
Flue lining:

17 x 17 (outside).....	do.....	1.50	1.50
Metal lath, 3.4-pound, copper-bearing.	Square yard.....	.35	.35

2. The item now appearing in Revised Appendix A to the above named order as "Portland Cement, St'd., Cloth Bags (Incl. Bag)", and its established maximum unit prices, are amended to read as follows:

Commodity	Unit	Maximum unit prices ¹
		Yard	Delivered
Portland cement, standard, cloth bags.	94-pound bag.....	$0.735	$0.735

² In quoting the maximum price for this item, sellers covered by this area order may include the bag deposit providing the deposit is reasonable and providing the refund equals the deposit.

This Amendment No. 3 to Order No. G-11 under General Order No. 68 shall become effective September 26, 1946.

Issued this 26th day of September, 1946.

WALTER D. KLINE,
District Director.

OPINION ACCOMPANYING AMDT. 3 TO ORDER G-11 UNDER GEN. ORDER 68

General Order No. 68 effective September 16, 1945, issued by the Price Administrator authorized each Regional Administrator of the Office of Price Administration and any District Director authorized by the Regional Administrator to establish prices for sales of certain hard building materials to ultimate users or to purchasers for resale on an installed basis.

This Amendment No. 3 to Order No. G-11 to General Order No. 68 is issued for the following reasons:

1. On August 21, 1946, the Des Moines District Office issued Amendment No. 2 to Order No. G-11. This amendment was issued to authorize increased maximum prices to reflect average increases in acquisition costs for the applicable commodities in conformance with the provisions of section 2 (t) of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. Amendment No. 2 did not, however, authorize increases for flue linings, or metal lath 3.4 lb. copper bearing.

In Appendix A of its memorandum of August 8, 1946, the National Office authorized a 13% increase in the price of sewer pipe to resellers covered by area orders. Because the Appendix failed to list "sewer pipe and allied products", as designated in Amendment 54 to Order No. 1 of MPR No. 592, this office erroneously omitted authorizing the 13% increase for flue lining which is an allied product of sewer pipe.

In authorizing percentage increases for metal lath, 3.4 lb., the National Office memorandum of August 8, 1946 failed to designate the percentage increase for metal lath, 3.4 lb., copper bearing. Since the issuance of Amendment No. 2, this office has been informed that the National Office has authorized, in the case of metal lath, 3.4 lb., copper bearing, the same percentage factor as used for metal lath, 3.4 lb., painted. This authorized increase is 17.5%.

This Amendment No. 3 authorizes the appropriate increases.

2. The maximum prices established in Order No. G-11 for "Portland Cement, St'd. Cloth Bag (Incl. Bag)—94 lb." included a 10¢ deposit for the bag which was the uniform deposit in effect at the time of the issuance of the order. Since the manufacturers of Portland Cement have recently increased the deposit from 10¢ to 25¢ per bag, and since under the provisions of MPR No. 224 they may further revise the deposit required providing it remains reasonable, this amendment establishes maximum unit prices which do not include the dollar-and-cent deposit for the cloth bag. This removal of the amount of the deposit in the dollar-and-cent price authorized in the order will avoid the necessity of amending the order every time the manufacturers increase or decrease the amount of the deposit.

In the opinion of the District Director of the Des Moines, Iowa District Office of the Office of Price Administration, this amendment establishes prices that are generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders 9250 and 9328.

OPINION ACCOMPANYING AMENDMENT 2
TO ORDER NO. G-12 UNDER GENERAL
ORDER NO. 68

General Order No. 68, effective September 16, 1945, issued by the Price Administrator authorized each Regional Administrator of the Office of Price Administration and any District Director authorized by the Regional Administrator to establish prices for sales of certain hard building materials to ultimate users or to purchasers for resale on an installed basis.

This Amendment No. 2 to Order No. G-12 to General Order No. 68 is issued for the following reasons:

1. On August 21, 1946, the Des Moines District Office issued Amendment No. 1 to Order No. G-12. This amendment was issued to authorize increased maximum prices to reflect average increases in acquisition costs for the applicable commodities in conformance with the provisions of section 2 (t) of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. Amendment No. 1 did not, however, authorize increases for flue linings.

In Appendix A of its memorandum of August 8, 1946, the National Office authorized a 13% increase in the price of sewer pipe to resellers covered by area orders. Because the Appendix failed to list "sewer pipe and allied products", as designated in Amendment 54 to Order No. 1 of MPR No. 592, this office erroneously omitted authorizing the 13% increase for flue lining which is an allied product of sewer pipe.

This Amendment No. 2 authorizes the appropriate increases.

2. The maximum prices established in Order No. G-12 for "Portland Cement, St'd. Cloth Bag (Incl. Bag), 94 lb." included a 10¢ deposit for the bag which was the uniform deposit in effect at the time of the issuance of the order. Since the manufacturers of Portland Cement have recently increased the deposit from 10¢ to 25¢ per bag, and since under the provisions of MPR No. 224 they may further revise the deposit required providing it remains reasonable, this amendment establishes maximum unit prices which do not include the dollar-and-cent deposit for the cloth bag. This removal of the amount of the deposit in the dollar-and-cent price authorized in the order will avoid the necessity of amending the order every time the manufacturers increase or decrease the amount of the deposit.

In the opinion of the District Director of the Des Moines, Iowa, District Office of the Office of Price Administration, this amendment establishes prices that are generally fair and equitable and will effectuate the purposes of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended, and Executive Orders 9250 and 9328.

OPINION ACCOMPANYING AMENDMENT NO. 2 TO REVISED ADOPTING ORDER NO. 2, UNDER BASIC ORDER NO. 1, AS AMENDED, UNDER GENERAL ORDER NO. 68, AS AMENDED

The accompanying amendment gives effect to manufacturers' increases that have been granted on the items for which Maximum Prices are fixed by this order, up to September 30, 1946, so as to comply with the provisions of section 2 (t) of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942, as amended. The prices for the items affected by this amendment supersede the prices previously established for said items in this order. This amendment also supersedes Supplementary Order 179 by adding the increased cost due to higher freight rates on specified commodities and reflecting them in the established dollars and cents prices.

OPINION ACCOMPANYING AMDT. 3 TO ADOPTING ORDER 37 AS AMENDED, UNDER BASIC ORDER 1 AS AMENDED, UNDER GEN. ORDER 68 AS AMENDED under General Order 68 as amended, was issued by this office effective March 11, 1946. This order stated maximum prices for certain hard mason materials in the area covered by said order, more fully described in said order. This order was amended by amendments No. 1 and 2.

The latter amendment among other things, struck out Schedule A annexed to said order, and inserted in place thereof, Revised Schedule A. Revised Schedule A gave effect to all manufacturers' increases granted up to June 30, 1946, in accordance with section 2 (t) of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 as amended.

It now appears that additional manufacturers' increases have been granted on some of the items since June 30, 1946, and effect has been given to such increases up to the date of the schedule by substituting Second Revised Schedule A in place of the previous Revised Schedule A. The prices fixed by said Second Revised Schedule A fully comply with the provisions of section 2 (t) of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 as amended. This amendment, however, does not supersede Supplementary Order 179, relating to increased freight on certain commodities, as freight increases have not been considered in computing the prices fixed by Second Revised Schedule A.

1. Adopting Order No. 20 as amended, under Basic Order No. 1 as amended, under General Order 68 as amended, is hereby further amended by substituting for the Schedule attached to said order as amended, the annexed schedule known as Schedule of August 29, 1946, which is made a part of said order. The schedule attached to this amendment and to said order, supersedes all previous schedules.

OPINION ACCOMPANYING AMENDMENT 2 TO ADOPTING ORDER 18 UNDER BASIC ORDER 1, AS AMENDED, UNDER GENERAL ORDER 68 AS AMENDED

The accompanying amendment gives effect to manufacturer's increases that have been granted on the items for which maximum prices are fixed by this order, up to the date of the schedule attached to this amendment, so as to comply with the provisions of section 2 (t) of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 as amended. The schedule attached to this amendment and made a part of the order supersedes all previous schedules. This amendment does not, however, supersede Supplementary Order 179 relating to increased freight on certain commodities.

OPINION ACCOMPANYING AMENDMENT 3 TO ADOPTING ORDER 36 UNDER BASIC ORDER 1 AS AMENDED, UNDER GENERAL ORDER 68 AS AMENDED

On February 15, 1946, Adopting Order No. 36, under Basic Order No. 1, was issued by this office, effective March 1, 1946. This order stated maximum prices for certain hard mason materials in the area covered by said order, more fully described in said order. This order was amended by Amendment 1 issued and effective June 26, 1946, and further amended by Amendment 2 issued and effective August 22, 1946. Amendment No. 2, among other things, substituted Revised Schedule A for the original schedule, so as to give effect to manufacturers' increases which had been granted up to June 30, 1946, in accordance with section 2 (t) of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 as amended.

It now appears that additional manufacturers' increases have been granted on some of the items covered by Revised Schedule A since June 30, 1946, and the accompanying amendment accordingly substitutes Second Revised Schedule A for Revised Schedule A. This Second

Revised Schedule A gives effect to manufacturers' increases in accordance with the provisions of section 2 (t) of the Emergency Price Control Act of 1942 as amended. This amendment does not supersede Supplementary Order No. 179 relating to increased freight on certain commodities.
